In the Register of the Stationers' Company is the following entry :

3 Augusti [1601] . . .

Entred for his copie vnder the hand of master Seton A comedy of A woman Will haue her Will vj^d William white

[Arber's Transcript, III. 190.]

No edition, however, is known earlier than the quarto printed by White in 1616. Of this there are perfect copies in the British Museum and the Bodleian Library, both of which have been used in the preparation of the present reprint. Variants occur at ll. 454, 1325, 1347, 1437, 1587, 2592, 2623, showing that the British Museum copy has an uncorrected outer forme in sheet B, and the Bodleian copy an uncorrected outer forme in sheet F and an uncorrected inner forme and outer forme in sheet K. The quarto is printed in roman type of a size approximating to modern pica (20 ll. = 82 mm.). No transfer of the rights in the play is recorded in the Stationers' Register, but an edition appeared in 1626 printed by I. N., i. e. John Norton the younger, and to be sold by Hugh Perry, and another in 1631 printed by A. M., i. e. Augustine Matthews, and to be sold by Richard Thrale, both in quarto, copies of the former being preserved in the British Museum and the Bodleian, of the latter in these libraries as well as in those of Cambridge University and Eton College, in the Dyce collection, and elsewhere. In the edition of 1626 the woodcut has disappeared from the title-page, but there have been added the words ‘As it hath beene diuers times Acted with great applause’. The type is the same as that of the former edition. The edition of 1631 retains on the title-page the statement as to the play having been acted, but omits the first title, though this is usually retained in the headline. The type is again the same and the same ornament appears at the head of the text as in the edition of 1626. The conditions under which these later editions were published is at present obscure, for though Augustine Matthews is known to have had dealings with John White, the son and heir of William, in 1620-4, and with John Norton in 1624-6, no direct connexion is known between either John or William White and John Norton (see McKerrow, Dictionary of Printers 1557-1640, pp. 188, 288, and Plomer, Dictionary of Printers 1641-1667, p. 138).

All three editions are anonymous, but the claim of William Haughton to be considered the author of the play is happily established on first-class evidence, by the following entries made in Henslowe’s Diary in the spring of 1598 :

lent vnto Robarte shawe the 18 of february 159[7/]8 to paye vnto harton for a comodey called a woman will have her wille the some of xx^s
[fol. 44^v]

Lente vnto dowton to paye vnto horton in pte of paymente of his boocke called a womon will haue her wille xx^s
[fol. 45^v]

The second entry is undated but appears between others of 2 and 6 May 1598.

The incident of the suspended lover is found in the twenty-eighth story of Pietro Fortini's Novelle de' Novizi. It must have been a common tale for there was no opportunity of borrowing, the Sieneſe novelist's works having remained in manuscript till late in the eighteenth century.

It has been ſuggeſted, not unreaſonably, that the mention of 'the Kings Engliſh' at l. 319 points to a reuiſion after the acceſſion of James I. Since, however, the manuſcript was preſumably in White's hands as early as 1601 there is no reaſon to ſuppoſe that the alterations amounted to more than what a compoſitor might feel impelled to make in his copy.

LIST OF DOUBTFUL READINGS, &C.

N.B.—The following is primarily a list of those passages in which the reading of the original is open to question, and of those in which different copies of the original have been found to vary. It also includes a number of readings which are evident typographical blunders of the original, this being necessary as a defence of the accuracy of the reprint. It makes, however, no pretence of supplying a complete list of errors and corruptions, still less of offering any criticism or emendation. For the sake of greater clearness the readings are quoted in a slightly different manner from that adopted in the earlier Malone reprints. The mere repetition of a reading out of the text is equivalent to ‘sic’.

How smugge this gray-eyde Morning seemes to bee,
A pleasant sight; but yet more pleasure haue I
To thinke vpon this moystning Southwest Winde,
That driues my laden Shippes from fertile Spaine;
But come what will, no Winde can come amisse,
For two and thirty Windes that rules the Seas,
And blowes about this ayerie Region;
Thirtie two Shippes haue I to equall them:
Whose wealthy fraughts doe make Pisaro rich:
Thus euery Soyle to mee is naturall:
Indeed by birth, I am a Portingale,
Whodriuen by Westerne winds on English shore,
Heere liking of the Soyle, I married,
And haue Three Daughters: But impartiall Death
Long since, depriude mee of her dearest life:
Since whose discease, in London I haue dwelt:
And by the sweete loude trade of Usurie,
Letting for Interest, and on Morgages,
Doe I waxe rich, though many Gentlemen
By my extortion comes to miserie:
Amongst the rest, three English Gentlemen,
Haue pawnde to mee their Liuinges and their Lands:
Each seuerall hoping, though their hopes are vaine,
By mariage of my Daughters, to possesse
Their Patrimonies and their Landes againe:
But Gold is sweete, and they deceiue them-selues;
For though I guild my Temples with a smile,
It is but Judas-like, to worke their endes.

Englijb-men for my money: or,
But soft, What noyfe of footing doe I heare?

Enter Laurentia, Marina, Mathea, and Anthony.

Laur. Now Maister, what intend you to read to vs?

Anth. Pisaro your Father would haue me read morall Pbi-

Mari. What's that? (losophy.)

Anth. First tell mee how you like it?

Math. First tell vs what it is.

Pisa. They be my Daughters and their Schoole-maister, Pisaro, not a word, but list their talke.

Anth. Gentlewomen, to paint Philosophy, 40
Is to present youth with so fowre a dish,
As their abhorring stomackes nill digestes.
When first my mother Oxford (Englands pride)
Fostred mee puple-like, with her rich store,
My study was to read Philosophy:
But since, my head-strong youths vnbridled will,
Scorning the leaden fetters of restraint,
Hath prunde my feathers to a higher pitch.
Gentlewomen, Morall Philosophy is a kind of art,
The most contrary to your tender sexes; 50
It teacheth to be graue: and on that brow,
Where Beawtie in her rarest glory shines,
Plants the sad semblance of decayed age:
Those Weedes that with their riches should adorne,
And grace faire Natures curious workmanship,
Must be conuerted to a blacke fac'd vayle,
Griefes liuerie, and Sorrowes semblance:
Your food must be your hearts abundant fishes,
Steep'd in the brinish licquor of your teares:
Day-light as darke-night, darke-night spent in prayer: 60
Thoughts your companions, and repentant mindes,
The recreation of your tired spirits:
Gentlewomen, if you can like this modestie,
Then will I read to you Philosophy.

Laur

A Woman will haue her will.

Laur. Not I.

Mari. Fie vpon it.

Math. Hang vp Philosophy, Ile none of it.

Pifar. A Tutor said I; a Tutor for the Diuell.

Anth. No Gentlewomen, Anthony hath learn'd
To read a Lector of more pleasing worth.

70

Marina, read these lines, young Haruie sent them,
There euery line repugnes Philosophy:

Then loue him, for he hates the thing thou hates.

Laurentia, this is thine from Ferdinande:

Thinke euery golden circle that thou see'st,

The rich vnualed circle of his worthe.

Mathea, with these Gloues thy Ned salutes thee;

As often as these, hide these from the Sunne,

And Wanton steales a kisse from thy faire hand,

Presents his seruiceable true harts zeale,

80

Which waites vpon the censure of thy doome:

What though their Lands be morgag'd to your Father;

Yet may your Dowries redeeme that debt:

Thinke they are Gentlemen, and thinke they loue;

And be that thought, their true loues aduocate.

Say you should wed for Wealth; for to that scope

Your Fathers greedy disposition tendes,

The world would say, that you were had for Wealth,

And so faire Beauties honour quite distinct:

A masse of Wealth being powrde vpon another,

90

Little augments the shew, although the summe;

But being lightly scattered by it selfe,

It doubles what it seem'd, although but one:

Euen so your selues, for wedded to the Rich,

His stile was as it was, a Rich man still:

But wedding these, to wed true Loue, is dutie:

You make them rich in Wealth, but more in Beautie:

I need not plead that smile, that smile shewes hearts con-

That kisse shew'd loue, that on that gift was lent: (sent;

And last thine Eyes, that teares of true ioy sendes,

English-men for my money: or,

As comfortable tidings for my friends. (procure,

Mari. Haue done, haue done; what need'tt thou more

When long ere this I stoop'd to that faire lure :

Thy euer louing Haruie I delight it :

Marina euer louing shall requite it young.

Teach vs Philosphy? Ile be no Nunne;

Age scornes Delight, I loue it being :

There's not a word of this, not a words part,

But shall be stamp'd, seal'd, printed on my heart;

On this Ile read, on this my senses ply :

110

All Arts being vaine, but this Philosphy.

Laur. Why was I made a Mayde, but for a Man?

And why Laurentia, but for Ferdinand?

The chafteft Soule these Angels could intice?

Much more himselfe, an Angell of more price :

were't thy selfe present, as my heart could wish,

Such vsage thou shouldst haue, as I giue this.

Anth. Then you would kisse him?

Laur. If I did, how then?

Anth. Nay I say nothing to it, but Amen.

120

Pisa. The Clarke must haue his fees, Ile pay you them.

Math. Good God, how abiect is this single life,

Ile not abide it; Father, Friends, nor Kin,

Shall once diffwade me from affecting :

A man's a man; and Ned is more then one :

Yfayth Ile haue thee Ned, or Ile haue none;

Doe what they can, chafe, chide, or storme their fill,

Mathea is resolu'd to haue her will.

Pisa. I can no longer hold my patience.

Impudent villanie, and laciuious Girles,

130

I haue ore-heard your vild conuersions:

You scorne Philosphy: You'le be no Nunne,

You must needs kisse the Purffe, because he sent it.

And you forsooth, you flurgill, minion,

A brat scant folded in the dozens at most,

Youle haue your will forsooth; What will you haue?

Math.

A Woman will haue her will.

Math. But twelue yeare old? nay Father that's not so,
Our Sexton told mee I was three yeares mo.

Pisa. I say but twelue: you'r best tell mee I lye.
What sirra Anthony. Anth. Heere fir. 140

Pisa. Come here fir, & you light hufwiues get you in:
Stare not vpon me, moue me not to ire: Exeunt sisters.
Nay sirra stay you here, Ile talke with you:
Did I retaine thee (villaine) in my houle,
Gauē thee a stipend twenty Markes by yeare,
And hast thou thus infected my three Girles,
Vrging the loue of those, I most abhord;
Vnthrifts, Beggars; what is worse,
And all becaufe they are your Country-men?

Anth. Why fir, I taught them not to keepe a Marchants 150 Booke, or cast accompt: yet to a word much like that word Accounte.

Pisa. A Knaue past grace, is past recouerie.
Why sirra Frisco, Villaine, Loggerhead, where art thou?
Enter Frisco, the Clowne.

Frisco. Heere's a calling indeed; ¹a man were better to liue a Lords life and doe nothing, then a Seruing creature, and neuer be idle. Oh Maister, what a messe of Brewesse standes now vpon the poynt of spoyling by your hastinesse; why they were able to haue got a good Stomacke 160 with child euen with the sight of them; and for a Vapour, oh precious Vapour, let but a Wench come neere them with a Painted face, and you should see the Paint drop and curdle on her Cheekes, like a peece of dry Effex Cheese toasted at the fire.

Pisa. Well sirra, leaue this thought, & minde my words, Giue diligence, inquire about
For one that is expert in Languages,
A good Musitian, and a French-man borne;
And bring him hither to instruct my Daughters, 170
Ile nere trust more a smooth-fac'd English-man.

Frisco. What, must I bring one that can speake Languages,

English-men for my money: or,

ges? what an old Assè is my Maister; why he may speake flaunte taunte as well as French, for I cannot vnderstand him.

Pisa. If he speake French, thus he will say, Awee awee:
What, canst thou remember it?

Frisco. Oh, I haue it now, for I remember my great Grandfathers Grandmothers sisters coosen told mee, that Pigges and French-men, speake one Language, awee awee; I am Dogg at this: But what must he speake else? 180

Pisa. Dutch. Frisco. Let's heare it?

Pisa. Haunce butterkin slowpin.

Frisco. Oh this is nothing, for I can speake perfect Dutch when I list.

Pisa. Can you, I pray let's heare some?

Frisco. Nay I must haue my mouth full of Meate first, and then you shall heare me grumble it foorth full mouth, as Haunce Butterkin slowpin frokin: No, I am a simple Dutch- man: Well, Ile about it.

Pisa. Stay firra, you are too hastie; for hee must speake 190 one Language more.

Frisco. More Languages? I trust he shall haue Tongues enough for one mouth: But what is the third?

Pisa. Italian.

Frisco. Why that is the easiest of all, for I can tell whether he haue any Italian in him euen by looking on him.

Pisa. Can you so, as how?

Frisco. Marry by these three poynts; a Wanton Eye, Pride in his Apparell, and the Diuell in his Countenance.
Well, God keepe me from the Diuel in seeking this French- 200 man: But doe you heare mee Maister, what shall my fellow Anthony doe, it seemes he shall serue for nothing but to put Lattin into my young Mistresses. Exit Frisco.

Pisa. Hence assè, hence loggerhead, begon I say.
And now to you that reads Philosophy,
Packe from my house, I doe discharge thy seruice,
And come not neere my dores; for if thou dost,
Ile make thee a publike example to the world.

Hntho

A Woman will haue her will.

Antho. Well crafty Fox, you that worke by wit,
It may be, I may liue to fit you yet. Exit Antho. 210

Pisa. Ah firra, this tricke was spide in time,
For if but two such Lectures more they'd heard,
For euer had their honest names been marde:
Ile in and rate them: yet that's not best,
The Girles are wilfull, and feueritie
May make them carelesse, mad, or desperate.
What shall I doe? Oh! I haue found it now,
There are three wealthy Marchants in the Towne,
All Strangers, and my very speciall friendes,
The one of them is an Italian: 220
A French-man, and a Dutch-man, be the other:
These three intyrelly doe affect my Daughters,
And therefore meane I, they shall haue the tongues,
That they may answere in their feuerall Language:
But what helpes that? they must not stay so long,
For whiles they are a learning Languages,
My English Youths, both wed, and bed them too:
Which to preuent, Ile seeke the Strangers out,
Let's looke: tis past aleauen, Exchange time full,
There shall I meete them, and conferre with them, 230
This worke craues hast, my Daughters must be Wedde,
For one Months stay, sayth farrewell Mayden head.

Exit.

Enter Haruie, Heigham, Sc. ii and Walgraue.

Heigh. Come Gentlemen, w'are almost at the house,
I promise you this walke ore Tower-hill,
Of all the places London can afforde,
Hath sweetest Ayre, and fitting our desires.

Haru. Good reason, so it leades to Croched-Fryers 240
Where old Pisaro, and his Daughters dwell,
Looke to your feete, the broad way leades to Hell:
They say Hell standes below, downe in the deepe,

B.

Ile

English-men for my money: or,

Ile downe that Hill, where such good Wenches keepe,
But firra Ned, what sayes Mathea to thee?

Wilt fadge? wilt fadge? What, will it be a match?

Walg. A match say you? a mischiefe twill as soone:
Should I can scarce begin to speake to her,
But I am interrupted by her father.

Ha, what say you? and then put ore his snoute, 250
Able to shaddow Powles, it is so great.

Well, tis no matter, firrs, this is his House,
Knocke for the Churle bid him bring out his Daughter;
Ile, sbloud I will, though I be hanged for it,

Heigh. Hoyda, hoyda, nothing with you but vp & ride,
Youle be within, ere you can reach the Dore,
And haue the Wench, before you compasse her:
You are too haftie, Pisaro is a man,
Not to be fedde with Words, but wonne with Gold.
But who comes heere? 260

Enter Anthony.

Walg. Whom, Anthony our friend?
Say man, how fares our Loues? How doth Mathea?
Can she loue Ned? how doth she like my sute?
Will old Pisaro take me for his Sonne;
For I thanke God, he kindly takes our Landes,
Swearing, Good Gentlemen you shall not want,
Whilst old Pisaro, and his credite holds:
He will be damn'd the Roage, before he do't?

Haru. Prethy talke milder: let but thee alone, 270
And thou in one bare hower will aske him more,
Then heele remember in a hundred yeares:
Come from him Anthony, and say what newes?

Antho. The newes for me is badd; and this it is:
Pisaro hath discharg'd me of his seruice.

Heigh. Discharg'd thee of his seruice; for what cause?

Anth. Nothing, but that his Daughters learne Philosophy.

Haru. Maydes should reade, that it teacheth modestie.

Antho.

A Woman will haue her will.

Antbo. I, but I left out mediocritie,
And with effectuall reasons, vrgd your loues. 280

Walg. The fault was small, we three will to thy Maister
And begge thy pardon.

Antbo. Oh, that cannot be,
Hee hates you farre worser, then he hates me ;
For all the loue he shewes, is for your Lands,
Which he hopes sure will fall into his hands :
Yet Gentlemen, this comfort take of me,
His Daughters to your loues affected be :
Their father is abroad, they three at home,
Goe chearely in, and cease that is your owne : 290
And for my selfe, but grace what I intend,
Ile ouerreach the Churle, and helpe my Friend.

Heigh. Build on our helpes, and but deuise the meanes.

Antbo. Pisaro did commaund Frisco his man,
(A simple sotte, kept onely but for myrth)
To inquire about in London for a man,
That were a French-man and Musitian,
To be (as I suppose) his Daughters Tutor :
Him if you meete, as like enough you shall,
He will inquire of you of his affayres ; 300
Then make him answere, you three came from Paules,
And in the middle walke, one you espide,
Fit for his purpose ; then discribe this Cloake,
This Beard and Hatte : for in this borrowed shape,
Must I beguile and ouer-reach the Foole :
The Maydes must be acquainted with this drift.
The Doore doth ope, I dare not stay reply,
Least beeing discride : Gentlemen adue,
And helpe him now, that oft hath helped you. Exit.

Enter Frisco the Clowne. 310

Wal. How now sirra, whither are you going ?

Fris. Whither am I going, how shall I tell you, when I doe not know my selfe, nor vnderstand my selfe ?

English-men for my money: or,

Heigh. What dost thou meane by that?

Frisco. Marry sir, I am seeking a Needle in a Bottle of Hay, a Monster in the liknesse of a Man: one that in stead of good morrow, asketh what Porrage you haue to Dinner, Parley vous signiour? one that neuer washes his fingers, but lickes them cleane with kisses; a clipper of the Kings English: and to conclude, an eternall enemy to all good 320 Language.

Haru. What's this? what's this?

Fris. Doe not you smell me? Well, I perceiue that witte doth not always dwel in a Satten-dublet: why, tis a French-man, Bassimon cue, how doe you?

Haru. I thanke you sir, but tell me what wouldest thou doe with a French-man?

Fris. Nay sayth, I would doe nothing with him, vnlesse I fet him to teach Parrets to speake: marry the old Assē my Maister, would haue him to teach his Daughters, 330 though I trust the whole world sees, that there be such in his house that can serue his Daughters turne, as well as the proudest French-man: but if you be good laddes, tell me where I may finde such a man?

Heigh. We will, goe hie thee straight to Paules,
There shalt thou find one fitting thy desire;
Thou soone mayst know him, for his Beard is blacke,
Such is his rayment, if thou runn'st appace,
Thou canst not misse him Frisco.

Fris. Lord, Lord, how shall poore Pbrisco rewarde 340 your rich tydings Gentlemen: I am yours till Shrouetewesday, for then change I my Coppy, & looke like nothing but Red-Herring Cobbes, and Stock-Fish; yet Ile doe somewhat for you in the meane time: my Maister is abroad, and my young Mistresses at home: if you can doe any good on them before the French-man come, why so? Ah Gentlemen, doe not suffer a litter of Languages to spring vp amongst vs: I must to the Walke in Paules, you to the Veftrie. Gentlemen, as to my felfe, and fo forth.

A Woman will haue her will.

Exit Friſco, 350

Haru. Fooles tell the truth men fay, and fo may he :

Wenches we come now, Loue our conduct be.

Ned, knocke at the doore: but foft forbear;

Enter Lawrentia, Marina, and Mathea.

The Cloude breakes vp, and our three Sunnes appeare.

To this I fly, shine bright my liues ſole ſtay,

And make griefes night a gloryous ſummers day.

Mari. Gentlemen, how welcome you are here,

Gueſſe by our lookes, for other meanes by feare

Preuented is: our fathers quicke returne

Forbids the welcome, elſe we would haue done.

Walg. Mathea, How theſe faythfull thoughts obey.

Mat. No more ſweet loue, I know what thou would'ſt

You ſay you loue me, ſo I wiſh you ſtill, (ſay :

Loue hath loues hier, being ballancſt with good will :

But ſay ; come you to vs, or come you rather

To pawne more Lands for mony to our father ?

I know tis ſo, a Gods name ſpend at large :

What man ? our mariage day will all diſcharge ;

Our father (by his leaue) muſt pardon vs,

Age faue of age, of nothing can diſcuſſe :

But in our loues, the prouerbe weele fulfill :

Women and Maydes, muſt alwayes haue their will.

Heigh. Say thou as much, and adde life to this Coarſe,

Law. Your ſelfe & your good news doth more enforce :

How theſe haue ſet forth loue by all their witte,

I ſweare in heart, I more then double it.

Sifters be glad, for he hath made it playne,

The meanes to get our Schoole-maiſter againe :

But Gentlemen, for this time ceaſe our loues,

This open ſtreete perhaps ſuſpition moues,

Fayne we would ſtay, bid you walke in more rather,

B 3.

But

English-men for my money: or,

But that we feare the comming of our father :
Goe to th'Exchange, craue Gold as you intend,
Pisaro scrapes for vs; for vs you spend :
We say farewell, more fadlier be bold,
Then would my greedy father to his Gold :
Wee here, you there, aske Gold; and Gold you shall :
Weele pay the intrest, and the principall. Exeunt Sisters
Walg. That's my good Girles, and Ile pay you for all. 390
Haru. Come to th'Exchange, and when I feele decay, Send me such Wenches, Heauens I still shall pray. Exeunt.

Enter Pisaro, Delion the Frenchman, Vandalle the Dutchman, Sc. iii
Aluaro the Italian, and other Marchants, at seuerall doores.

Pisa. Good morrow, M. Strangers.

Strang. Good morrow sir.

Pisaro. This (louing friends) hath thus emboldned me,
For knowing the affection and the loue
Maister Vandalle, that you beare my Daughter :
Likwise, and that with ioy considering too, 400
you Mounfier Delion, would faine dispatch :
I promise you, mee thinkes the time did fit,
And does bir-Lady too, in mine aduice,
This day to clap a full conclusion vp :
And therefore made I bold to call on you,
Meaning (our bufineffe done here at the Burse)
That you at mine intreaty should walke home,
And take in worth such Viands as I haue :
And then we would, and so I hope we shall,
Loofely tye vp the knot that you desire, 410
But for a day or two; and then Church rites
Shall sure conforme, confirme, and make all fast.

Vand. Seker Mester Pisaro, mee do so groterly dancke you, dat you macke mee so sure of de Wench, datt ic can neit dancke you enough.

Delio. Monsieur Pisaro, mon pere, mon Vadere, Oh de grande

A Woman will haue her will.

grande ioye you giue me (econte) mee fal go home to your Houfe, fal eat your Bakon, fal eat your Beefe, and fhall tacke de Wench, de fine Damoyfella.

Pifa. You fhall, and welcome; welcome as my foule: 420
But were my third Sonne sweete Aluaro heere,
Wee would not ftay at the Exchange to day,
But hye vs home and there end our affayres.

Enter Moore, and Towerfon.

Moore. Good day maifter Pifaro.

Pifa. Maifter Moore, marry with all my heart good morrow fir; What newes? What newes?

Moore. This Marchant heere my friend, would fpeake with you.

Tower. Sir, this iolly South-west wind with gentle blaft, 430
Hath driuen home our long expected Shippes,
All laden with the wealth of ample Spaine,
And but a day is paff fince they ariude
Safely at Plimmouth, where they yet abide.

Pifa. Thankes is too small a guerdon for fuch newes.
How like you this Newes friends? Maifter Vandalle, Heer's fomewhat towards for my Daughters Dowrie:
Heer's fomewhat more then we did yet expect.

Tower. But heere you fir, my bufineffe is not done;
From thefe fame Shippes I did receiue thefe lines, 440
And there inclofde this fame Bill of exchange,
To pay at fight; if fo you pleafe accept it.

Pifa. Accept it, why? What fir fhould I accept,
Haue you receiued Letters, and not I?
Where is this lazie villaine, this flow Poaft?
What, brings he euery man his Letters home,
And makes mee no bodie; does hee, does hee?
I would not haue you bring me counterfeit;
And if you doe, affure you I fhall fmell it:
I know my Factors writing well enough. 450

Tower. You doe fir; then fee your Factors writing:

English-men for my money: or,

I scorne as much as you, to counterfeite,
Pisa. Tis well you doe fir.

Enter Haruic, Walgraue, and Heighan.

What Maister Walgraue, and my other frindes:
You are growne strangers to Pisaros house,
I pray make bold with me.

Walg. I, with your Daughters
You may be sworne, weele be as bold as may be.

Pisa. Would you haue ought with me, I pray now speake. 460

Heigh. Sir, I thinke you vnderstand our sute,
By the repaying we haue had to you:
Gentlemen you know, must want no Coyne,
Nor are they slaues vnto it, when they haue:
You may perceiue our minds; What say you to't?

Pisa. Gentlemen all, I loue you all:
Which more to manifest, this after noone
Betweene the howers of two and three repaire to mee;
And were it halfe the substance that I haue,
Whilst it is mine, tis yours to commaunde. 470

But Gentlemen, as I haue regard to you,
So doe I wish you'll haue respect to mee:
You know that all of vs are mortall men,
Subiect to change and mutabilitie;
You may, or I may, soone pitch ore the Pearch,
Or so, or so, haue contrary crosses:
Wherefore I deeme but meere equitie,
That some thing may betwixt vs be to shew.

Heigh. M. Pisaro, within this two months without faile,
We will repay. 480

Enter Browne.

Browne. God saue you Gentlemen.

Gentlemen. Good morrow fir.

Pisa. What M. Browne, the onely man I wisht for,
Does your price fall? what shall I haue these Cloathes?

For

A Woman will haue her will.

For I would ship them straight away for Stoade:
I doe wish you my Mony fore another.

Brow. Fayth you know my price sir, if you haue them.

Pisa. You are to deare in fadnesse, maister Heigham:
You were about to say somewhat, pray proceede. 490

Heigh. Then this it was: those Landes that are not morgag'd

Enter Post.

Post. God blesse your worship.

Pisaro. I must craue pardon; Oh sirra, are you come?

Walg. Hoyda, hoyda; Whats the matter now;
Sure, yonder fellow will be torne in peeces. (about:

Haru. Whats hee, sweete youths; that so they flocke
What old Pisaro tainted with this madnesse?

Heigh. Vpon my life, tis some body brings newes; 500
The Courte breakes vp, and wee shall know their Coun-Looke, looke, how busely they fall to reading. (fell:

Pisa. I am the last, you should haue kept it still:
Well, we shall see what newes you bring with you;
Our duty premised, and we haue sent vnto your worship Sacke, suill Oyles, Pepper, Barbery sugar, and such other commodities as we thought most requisite, we wanted mony therefore we are fayne to take vp 200. l. of Maister Towersons man, which by a bill of Exchange sent to him,
we would request your worship pay accordingly. 510

You shall commaund sir, you shall commaunde sir,
The newes here is, that the English shipes, the Fortune, your shipe, the aduerture and good lucke of London coasting along by Italy Towards Turky, were set vpon by to Spanisb-galleis, what became of them we know not, but doubt much by reason of the weathers calmnesse.

Pisa How ist six to one the weather calme,
Now afore God who would not doubt their safety,
A plague vpon these Spanisb-galli Pirattes,

C.

, Roring

English-men for my money: or,

Roaring Caribdis, or deuowring Scilla, 520
Were halfe such terrour to the anticke world,
As these same anticke Villaines now of late,
Haue made the Straights twixt Spaine and Barbary.

Tower Now sir, what doth your Factors letters say?

Pisa. Marrie he saith, these witleffe luckleffe doults,
Haue met, and are beset with Spanisb Gallies,
As they did faile along by Italy:
What a bots made the dolts neere Italy,
Could they not keepe the coast of Barbary,
Or hauing past it, gone for Tripoly, 530
Beeing on the other side of Sicily,

As neere, as where they were vnto the Straights:
For by the Gloabe, both Tripoly and it,
Lie from the Straights some twentie fiue degrees;
And each degree makes three-score english miles?

Tower. Very true sir: But it makes nothing to my Bill of exchange: this dealing fits not one of your account.

Pisa. And what fits yours? a prating wrangling tounge,
A womans ceaselesse and incessant babling,
That sees the world turnd topsie turuie with me; 540
Yet hath not so much witte to stay a while,
Till I bemone my late excefsiue losse.

Walg. S'wounds tis dinner time, Ile stay no longer:
Harke you a word sir.

Pisa. I tell you sir, it would haue made you whine
Worse then if shooles of luckleffe croking Rauens,
Had ceafd on you to feed their famisht paunches:
Had you heard newes of such a rauenous rout,
Ready to cease on halfe the wealth you haue.

Wal. Sbloud you might haue kept at home & be hangd, 550
What a pox care I.

Enter a Post.

Post. God saue your worship, a littlemony and so forth.

Pisa. But men are fencelesse now of others woe,
This stony age is growne so stony harted,
That none respects their neighbours miseries,

A Woman will haue her will.

I wish (as Poets doe) that Saturnes times
The long out worne world weare in vse againe,
That men might sayle without impediment.

Post. I marry fir that were a merry world indeede, I would hope to gette more mony of your worship in one 560 quarter of a yeare, then I can doe now in a whole twelue-moneth.

Enter Balsaro.

Balsa. Maister Pisaro how I haue runne about,
How I haue toylt to day to finde you out,
At home, abroade, at this mans house, at that,
Why I was here an hower agoe and more,
Where I was tould you were, but could not finde you.

Pisa. Fayth fir I was here but was driuen home,
Heres such a common hant of Crack-rope boyes,
That what for feare to haue m'apparell spoyld, 570
Or my Ruffes durted, or Eyes strucke out:
I dare not walke where people doe expect mee:
Well, things (I thinke) might be better lookt vnto,
And such Coyne to, which is bestowde on Knaues,
Which should, but doe not see things be reformd,
Might be imployde to many better vses:
But what of beardlesse Boyes, or such like trash;
The Spanisb Gallies: Oh, a vengeance on them.

Post. Maffè, this man hath the lucke on't, I thinke I can scarce euer come to him for money, but this a vengeance 580 on, and that a vengeance on't, doth so trouble him, that I can get no Coyne: Well, a vengeance on't for my part; for he shall fetch the next Letters him selfe.

Browne. I prethee, when thinkst thou the Ships will be come about from Plimmouth? Post. Next weeke, fir.

Heigh. Came you fir from Spaine lately?

Post. I fir; Why aske you that?

Ha. Marry fir, thou seemes to haue bin in the hot countries, thy face looks so like a peece of rusty Bacon: had thy Host at Plimmoth meat enough in the house, whẽ thou wert there? 590

Post. What though he had not fir? but he had, how then?

English-men for my money: or,

Haru. Marry thanke God for it; for otherwise, he would doubles haue Cut thee out in Raslers to haue eaten thee; thou look'ft as thou weart through broyld already.

Post. You haue sayd fir; but I am no meate for his mowing, nor yours neither: If I had you in place where, you should find me tough enough in digestion, I warrant you.

Walgr. What will you fwagger firra, will yee fwagger?

Brow. I beseech you Sir, hold your hand; Gette home yee patch, cannot you suffer Gentlemen Iest with you? 600

Post. Ide teach him a Gentle tricke and I had him of the burse; but Ile watch him a good turne I warrant him.

Moor. Assure yee maister Towersson, I cannot blame him, I warrant you it is no easie losse;

How thinke you maister Stranger? by my fayth fir, Ther's twentie Marchants will be sorry for it, That shall be partners with him in his losse.

Str. Why fir, whats the matter.

Moor. The Spanish-gallies haue besette our shippes, That lately were bound out for Siria. 610

March. What not? I promise you I am sorry for it.

Walgr. What an old Assè is this to keepe vs here: Maister Pisaro, pray dispatch vs hence.

Pisa. Maister Vandalle I confesse I wronge you; But Ile but talke a word or two with him, and straight turne to you.

Ah fir, and how then yfayth?

Heighb. Turne to vs, turne to the Gallowes if you will,

Haru. Tis Midfomer-Moone with him: let him alone, He call's *Ned Walgrau*e, Maister Vandalle. (Pisaro. 620)

Walgr. Let it be shrouetide, Ile not stay an ynche maister Pisa. What should you feare: ende as I haue vow'd be- So now againe; my Daughters shalbe yours: (fore,

And therefore I beseech you and your friendes,

Deferre your businesse till Dinner time;

And what youd say, keepe it for table talke.

Haru.

A Woman will haue her will.

Haru. Marrie and shall; a right good motion:
Sirrs, old Pisaro is growne kind of late,
And in pure loue, hath bid vs home to dinner.

Heigh. Good newes in truth: But wherfore art thou sad? 630

Walg. For feare the slaue ere it be dinner time,
Remembring what he did, recall his word:
For by his idle speeches, you may sweare,
His heart was not confederat with his tongue.

Haru. Tut neuer doubt, keepe stomacks till anone,
And then we shall haue cates to feede vpon.

Pisa. Well sir, since things doe fall so crosely out,
I must dispose my selfe to patience:
But for your businesse, doe you assure your selfe,
At my repaying home from the Exchange, 640
Ile set a helping hand vnto the same.

Enter Aluaro the Italian.

Alua. Bon iurno signeour Padre, why be de malancollie so much, and graue in you a: wat Newes make you looke so naught?

Pisa. Naught is too good an epithite by much,
For to distinguish such contrarioufnesse:
Hath not swift Fame told you our slow failde Shippes
Haue been ore-taken by the swift faile Gallies,
And all my cared-for goods within the lurch 650
Of that same Catterpillar brood of Spaine.

Alua. Signor si, how de Spaniola haue almost tacke de
Ship dat go for Turkie: my Pader, harke you me on word, I haue receiue vn lettre from my Factor de Vennise, dat after vn piculo battalion, for vn halfe howre de come a Winde fra de North, & de Sea go tumble here, & tumble dare, dat make de Gallies run away for feare be almost drownde.

Pisa. How sir; did the Winde rise at North, and Seas waxe rough: and were the Gallies therefore glad to fly?

Alu. Signior si, & de Ship go drite on de Iscola de Candy. 660

English-men for my money: or,

Pisa. Wert thou not my Alvaro my beloved,
One whom I know does dearely count of mee,
Much should I doubt me that some scoffing Iacke,
Had sent thee in the middest of all my griefes,
To tell a feigned tale of happy lucke.

Alua. Wil you no beleue me? see dare dan, see de lettre.

Pisa. What is this world? or what this state of man,
How in a moment curst, in a trice blest?
But euen now my happie state gan fade,
And now againe, my state is happie made, 670
My Goods all safe, my Ships all scapt away,
And none to bring me newes of such good lucke,
But whom the Heauens haue markt to be my Sonne:
Were I a Lord as great as Alexander,
None should more willingly be made mine Heyre
Then thee thou golden tongue, thou good-newes teller
Ioy stops my mouth. The Exchange Bell rings.

Balsa. M. Pisaro, the day is late, the Bell doth ring:
Wilt please you hasten to performe this businesse?

Pisa. What businesse sir? Gods mee, I cry you mercie: 680
Doe it, yes sir, you shall commaund me more.

Tower. But sir, What doe you meane, doe you intend
To pay this Bill, or else to palter with mee?

Pisa. Marry God sheild, that I should palter with you:
I doe accept it, and come when you please;
You shall haue money, you shall haue your money due.

Post. I beseech your worship to consider mee.

Pisa. Oh, you cannot cogge: Goe to, take that,
Pray for my life: pray that I haue good lucke,
And thou shalt see, I will not be thy worst maister. 690

Post. Marry God bleffe your Worship; I came in happy time: What, a French crowne? sure hee knowes not what he does: Well, Ile begon, least he remember himselfe, and take it from me againe.

Exit Post.

Pisa. Come on my lads, M. Vandalle, sweet sonne Alvaro:
Come

A Woman will haue her will.

Come don Balsaro, lets be iogging home
Bir laken firs, I thinke tis one a clocke.

Extt Pisaro, Balsaro, Aluaro, Delion, and Vandalle.

Brow. Come M. Moore, th'Exchange is waxen thin,
I thinke it best we get vs home to dinner. 700

Moor. I know that I am lookt for long ere this:
Come maister Towerfon, let's walke along.

Exit Moore, Brovne, Towverfon, Strangers, & Marchant.

Heigh. And if you be so hot vpon your dinner,
Your best way is, to haste Pisaro on,
For he is cold enough, and slow enough;
He hath so late digested such cold newes.

Walg. Mary and shall: Heare you maister Pisaro.

Haru. Many Pisaros heere: Why how now Ned;
Where is your Matt, your welcome, and good cheare? 710

Walg. Swounds, lets follow him; why stay we heere?

Heigh. Nay prethee Ned Walg. lets bethinke our felues,
There's no such haste, we may come time enough:
At first Pisaro bade vs come to him

Twixt two or three a clocke at after noone?

Then was he old Pisaro: but since then,
What with his grieffe for losse, and ioy for finding,
Hee quite forgot himselfe, when he did bid vs,
And afterward forgot, that he had bade vs.

Walg. I care not, I remember't well enough: 720
Hee bade vs home; and I will goe, that's flat,
To teach him better witte another time.

Haru. Heer'le be a gallant iest, when we come there,
To see how maz'd the greedie chuffe will looke
Vpon the nations, sects, and factions,
That now haue borne him company to dinner:
But harke you, lets not goe to vexe the man;
Prethee sweet Ned lets tarry, doe not goe.

Walg. Not goe? indeed you may doe what you please;
Ile goe, that's flat: nay, I am gon alreadie, 730

Stay

English-men for my money: or,

Stay you two, and consider further of it.

Heigh. Nay all will goe, if one: I prethee stay;
Thou'rt such a rash and giddie headed youth,
Each Stone's a Thorne: Hoyda, he skips for haste;
Young Haruie did but iest; I know heele goe.

Walg. Nay, he may chuse for mee: But if he will,
Why does he not? why stands he prating still?
If youle goe, come: if not, fare-well?

Haru. Hier a Poast-horse for him (gentle Francke)
Heer's haste, and more haste then a hastie Pudding: 740
You mad-man, mad-cap, wild-oates; we are for you,
It bootes not stay, when you intend to goe.

Walg. Come away then. Exeunt.

Enter Pifaro, Aluaro, Delion, and Vandalle. Sc. iv

Pifa. A thousand welcomes friendes: Monsieur Delion,
Ten thousand Ben-venues vnto your selfe.

Signior Aluaro, Maister Vandalle;
Proude am I, that my rooffe containes such Friends.
Why Mall, Larentia, Matth; Where be these Girles?

Enter the three Sisters. 750

Liuely my Girles, and bid these Strangers welcome;
They are my friends, your friends, and our wel-willers:
You cannot tell what good you may haue on them.
Gods mee, Why stirre you not? Harke in your eare,
These be the men the choyse of many millions,
That I your carefull Father haue prouided
To be your Husbands: therefore bid them welcome.

Matth. Nay by my troth, tis not the guse of maydes,
To giue a flauering Salute to men: (aside,
If these sweete youths haue not the witte to doe it, 760
Wee haue the honestie to let them stand.

Vanda. Gods sekerlin, dats vn-fra meskin, Monsieur
Delion dare de Grote freister, dare wode ic zene, tis vn-fra Daughter, dare heb ic so long loude, dare Heb my desire so long gewest.

Aluar.

A Woman will haue her will.

Alua. Ah Venice, Roma, Italia, Frauncia, Anglitera, nor all dis orbe can shew so much belliza, veremante de secunda, Madona de granda bewtie.

Delio. Certes me dincke de mine depeteta de little Angloise, de me Matresse Pisaro is vn nette, vn becues, vn fra, 770 et vn tendra Damofella.

Pisa. What Stocks, what stones, what fenceles Truncks be these?

When as I bid you speake, you hold your tongue :
When I bid peace, then can you prate, and chat,
And gossip: But goe too, speake and bid welcome ;
Or (as I liue) you were as good you did.

Mari. I cannot tell what Language I should speake :
Yf I speake Englisch (as I can none other)
They cannot vnderstand mee, nor my welcome. 780

Alua. Bella Madona, dare is no language so dulce; dulce, dat is sweete, as de language, dat you shall speake, and de vell come dat you sal say, sal be well know perfoytement.

Mari. Pray sir, What is all this in Englisch?

Alua. De vsa sal vell teash you vat dat is; and if you sal please, I will teash you to parler Italiano.

Pisa. And that mee thinks sir, not without need :
And with Italian, to a Childes obedience,
With such desire to seeke to please their Parents,
As others farre more vertuous then them selues, 790
Doe dayly strue to doe: But tis no matter,
Ile shortly pull your haughtie stomacks downe:
Ile teach you vrge your Father; make you runne,
When I bid runne: and speake, when I bid speake:
What greater crosse can carefull parents haue (knock within
Then carelesse Children. Stirre and see who knocks?

Enter Haruie, Walgrauae, and Heigham.

Walgr. Good morrow to my good Mistris Mathea.

Mathe. As good a morrow, to the morrow giuer.

Pisa. A murren, what make these? What do they heere? 800

English-men for my money : or,

Heigh. You see maister Pisaro, we are bold guesstes,
You could haue bid no surer men then wee.

Pisa. Harke you Gentlemen ; I did expect you
At after noone, not before two a clocke.

Haru, Why sir, if you please, you shall haue vs heere at two a clocke, at three a clocke, at foure a clock ; nay till to morrow this time : yet I assure you sir, wee came not to your house without inuiting.

Pisa. Why Gentlemen, I pray who bade you now ?
Who euer did it, sure hath done you wrong :
For scarcely could you come to worfer cheare.

Heigh. It was your owne selfe bade vs to your cheare,
When you were busie with Balsaro talking ;
You bade vs cease our suites till dinner time,
And then to vse it for our table talke :
And wee I warrant you, are as sure as Steele.

Pisa. A murren on your selues, and surenes too :
How am I crost : Gods mee, what shall I doe,
This was that ill newes of the Spanish Pirats,
That so disturb'd mee : well, I must dissemble,
And bid them welcome ; but for my Daughters
Ile send them hence, they shall not stand and prate.
Well my Maisters, Gentlemen, and Friends,
Though vnexpected, yet most heartily welcome ;
(Welcome with a vengeance) but for your cheare,
That will be small : yet too too much for you.

Mall, in and get things readie.

Laurentia, bid Maudlin lay the Cloth, take vp the Meate :

Looke how she stirres ; you fullen Elfe, you Callet,
Is this the haste you make ? Exeunt Marina & Laurentia. 830

Alua. Signor Pisaro, ne soiat so malcontento de Gentlewoman your filigola did parler but a litella to, de gentle homa y our graunde amico.

Pisa. But that graunde amico, is your graunde inimico :
One, if they be suffred to parlar,

Will

A Woman will haue her will.

Will poll you, I and pill you of your Wife :
They loue together : and the other two,
Loues her two Sisters : but tis onely you Shall crop the flower, that they esteeme so much.

Alua. Do dey fo ; vell let me lone, fal see me giue dem 840 de fuch graund mocke, fal be shame of dem felues.

Pifa. Doe fir, I pray you doe ; set lustily vpon them,
And Ile be ready still to second you.

Walg. But Matt, art thou so mad as to turne French ?

Matb. Yes marry when two Sundayes come together ;
Thinke you Ile learne to speake this gibberidge,
Or the Pigges language ? Why, if I fall sicke, Theyle say, the French (et-cetera) infected mee.

Pifa. Why how now Minion ; what, is this your seruice ?
Your other Sisters busie are imployde, 850
And you stande idle : get you in, or. Exit Mathea.

Walg. Yf you chide her, chide me (M. Pisaro :
For but for mee, she had gon in long since.

Pifa. I thinke she had : for we are sprights to scare her ;
But er't be long, Ile driue that humor from her.

Alua. Signor, me thinks you foud no macke de wenshe so hardee, so difobedient to de padre as ditt madona Matt.

Walg. Signor, me thinks you should learne to speake, before you should be so foole-hardy, as to woe such a Mayden as that Madona Matt ? 860

Delio. Warrent you Monsieur, he fal parle wen you fal stande out the doure.

Haru. Harke you Monsieur, you would wish your selfe halfe hang'd, you were as sure to be let in as hee.

Van. Macke no doubt de signor Alua. fal do vel enough

Heigh. perhaps so : but me thinks your best way were to ship your selfe for Stoad, and there to batter your selfe for a commodity ; for I can tell you, you are here out of liking.

Pifa. The worst perhappes dislike him, but the best esteeme him best. 870

English-men for my money: or,

Haru. But by your patience fir, mee thinks none should know better who's Lord, then the Lady.

Alua. Den de Lady, vat Lady?

Haru. Marry fir, the Lady let her alone: one that meanes to let you alone for feare of trouble.

Pisa. Euery man as he may: yet sometmes the blinde may katch a Hare.

Heigh. I fir, but he will first eate many a Fly: You know it must be a wonder, if a Crab catch a Fowle.

Vand. Maer hort ens; if he & ic & monsier Delion be de 880 Crab, we sal kash de Fowle wel enough, I warrent you.

Walg. I, and the Foole well enough I warrant you; And much good may it doe yee.

Alua. Mee dincke such a piculo man as you be, sal haue no de such grande lucke madere.

Delio. Non da Monsieur, and he be so granda amorous op de Damofella, he sal haue Mawdlyn de witt Wenshe in de Kichine by maiter Pisaros leaue.

Walg. By M. Pisaros leaue, Monsieur Ile mumble you, except you learne to know, whom you speake to: I tell thee 890 Francois, Ile haue (maugre thy teeth) her that shall make thee gnash thy teeth to want.

Pisa. Yet a man may want of his will, and bate an Ace of his wifh: But Gentlemen, euery man as his lucke ferues, and so agree wee; I would not haue you fall out in my houle: Come, come, all this was in iest, now lets too't in earnest; I meane with our teeth, and try who's the best Trencher-man. Exeunt.

Euter Frisco.

Sc. v

Frisco. Ah firra, now I know, what manner of thing Powles is; I did so marle afore what it was out of all count: For my maister would say, Would I had Powles full of 902 Gold. My young Mistresses, and Grimkin our Taylor, would wifh they had Powles full of Needles: I, one askt my maister halfe a yard of Freeze to make me a Coate and hee

A Woman will haue her will.

hee cride whoope holly-day, it was big enough to make Powles a Night-gowne. I haue been told, that Duke Hum-frie dwelles here, and that he keeps open house, and that a braue sort of Cammileres dine with him euery day; now if I could see any vision in the world towards dinner, I 910 would set in a foote: But the best is, a the auncient English romaine Orator saith, So-lame-men, Mifers, Howsewines, and so forth: the best is, that I haue great store of companie that doe nothing but goe vp and downe, and goe vp and downe, and make a grumbling together, that the meate is so long making readie: Well, if I could meete this scurvie Frenchman, they should stay mee, for I would be gone home.

Enter Anthony.

Antho. I beseech you Monsieur, giue mee audience. 920

Frisc. What would you haue? What should I giue you?

Antho. Pardon, sir mine vnciuill and presumptuous intrusion, who indeauour nothing lesse, then to prouoke or exasperat you against mee.

Frisc. They say, a word to the Wife is enough: so by this litle French that he speakes, I see hee is the very man I seeke for: Sir, I pray what is your name?

Antho. I am nominated Monsieur Le Mouche, and rest at your bon seruice.

Frisc. I vnderstand him partly; yea, and partly nay: 930 Can you speake French? Content pore vous monsieur Madomo.

Antho. If I could not sir, I should ill vnderstand you: you speake the best French that euer trode vpon Shoe of Leather.

Frisc. Nay, I can speake more Languages then that: This is Italian, is it not? Nella slurde Curtezana.

Antho. Yes sir, and you speake it like a very Naturall.

Frisc. I beleue you well: now for Dutch:

Ducky de doe watt heb yee ge brought.

English-men for my money: or,

Antho. I pray stop your mouth, for I neuer heard such 940
Dutch before brocht.

Fris. Nay I thinke you haue not met with no pezant:
Heare you M. Mouse, (so your name is I take it) I haue considered of your learning in these aforefaid Languages, and find you reasonable: So, so, now this is the matter;
Can you take the ease to teach these Tongues to two or three Gentlewomen of mine acquaintance, and I will see you paide for your labour.

Antho. Yes sir, and that most willingly.

Fris. Why then M. Mouse, to their vse, I entertaine yee, 950 which had not been but for the troubles of the world, that I my selfe haue no leasure to shew my skill: Well sir, if youle please to walke with me, Ile bring you to them.

Exeunt.

Enter Laurentia, Marina, and Mathea.

Sc. vi

Lauren. Sit till dinners done; not I, I sweare:
Shall I stay? till he belch into mine eares
Those rusticke Phrases, and those Dutch French tearmes, Stammering halfe Sentences dogbolt Elloquence:
And when he hath no loue for-footh, why then 960
Hee tels me Cloth is deare at Anwerpe, and the men
Of Amsterdam haue lately made a law,
That none but Dutch as hee, may trafficke there:
Then standes he still and studies what to say;
And after some halfe houre, because the Ass
Hopes (as he thinkes), I shall not contradict him,
Hee tels me that my Father brought him to me,
And that I must performe my Fathers will.
Well good-man Goose-cap, when thou woest againe,
Thou shalt haue simple ease, for thy Loues paine. 970

Mathe. Alas poore Wench, I sorrow for thy hap,
To see how thou art clog'd with such a Dunce:
Forsooth my Sire hath fitted me farre better,
My Frenchman comes vpon me with the Sa, sa, sa;

Sweete

A Woman will haue her will.

Sweete Madam pardone moye I pra :

And then out goes his Hand, downe goes his Head,
Swallows his Spittle, frisksles his Beard; and then to mee :

Pardone moy mistresse Mathea,

If I be bold, to macke so bold met you,

Thinke it go will dat spurres me dus vp yow.

Dan cast neit off so good ande true Louer,

Madama celestura de la, (I know not what)

Doe oft pray to God dat me woud loue her :

And then hee reckons a catalogue ofnames of such as loue him, and yet cannot get him.

Mari. Nay, but your Monsieur's but a Mousse in cheefe, Compar'd with my Signor; hee can tell

Of Lady Venus, and her Sonne blind Cupid :

Of the faire Scilla that was lou'd of Glaucus,

And yet scornd Glaucus, and yet lou'd King Minos ;

990

Yet Minos hated her, and yet she holp'd him ;

And yet he scorn'd her, yet she kild her Father

To doe her good ; yet he could not abide her :

Nay, hele be bawdy too in his discourse ;

And when he is so, he will take my Hand,

And tickle the Palme, wincke with his one Eye,

Gape with his Mouth, and Laur. And, hold thy tongue I prethee : here's my father.

Enter Pifaro, Alvaro, Vandalle, Delion, Haruie, Walgraue, and Heigham.

Pifa. Vnmannerly, vntaught, vnnurtred Girles,

Doe I bring Gentlemen, my very friends

To feast with mee, to reuell at my Houfe,

That their good likings, may be fet on you,

And you like misbehau'd and fullen Girles,

Turne tayle to such, as may aduance your states :

I shall remembert, when you thinke I doe not.

I am forrie Gentlemen, your cheare's no better ;

But

English-men for my money: or,

But what did want at Board, excuse me for,
And you shall have amendes be made in Bed. 1010
To them friends, to them; they are none but yours:
For you I bred them, for you brought them vp:
For you I kept them, and you shall have them:
I hate all others that resort to them:
Then rouse your bloods, be bold with what's your owne:
For I and mine (my friends) be yours, or none.

Enter Frisco and Anthonie.

Frisco. God-gee god-morrow fir, I have brought you
M. Moufe here to teach my young Mistresses: I assure you
(for-sooth) he is a braue Frenchman. 1020

Pisa. Welcome friend, welcome: my man (I thinke)
Hath at the full, resolu'd thee of my will.
Monfieur Delion, I pray question him:
I tell you fir, tis onely for your sake,
That I doe meane to entertaine this fellow,

Antho. A bots of all ill lucke, how came these heere?
Now am I posde except the Wenches helpe mee:
I have no French to flap them in the mouth,

Haru. To see the lucke of a good fellow, poore Anthony
Could nere have sorted out a worfer time: 1030
Now will the packe of all our fly deuises
Be quite layde ope, as one vndoes an Oyfter:
Francke, Heigham, and mad Ned, fall to your muses,
To helpe poore Anthony now at a pinch,
Or all our market will be spoyld and marde.

Walg. Tut man, let vs alone, I warrant you. (vous.)

Delio. Monsieur, Vous estes tresbien venu, de quell pais estes

Anth. Vous, thats you: sure he saies, how do men call you Monfieur le Mouche?

Mari. Sister, helpe sister; that's honest Anthonie, 1040
And he answers, your woer cuius contrarium.

Delio. Monsieur, Vous n'entens pas, Je ne demaunde puit, vostre

A Woman will haue her will.

vostre nom?

Math. Monsieur Delion, he that made your Shooes, made them not in fashion: they should haue been cut square at the toe.

Delio. Madame, my Sho met de square toe, vat be dat?

Pisa. Why fauce-box; how now you vnreuerent mincks Why? in whose Stable hast thou been brought vp, To interrupt a man in midst of speach? 1050
Monfieur Delion, disquiet not your selfe,
Bu tas you haue begun, I pray proceed
To question with this Countriman of yours.

Delio. Dat me sal doe tres beien, but de bella Madona de iune Gentlewoman do monstre some finge of amour to speake lot me, epurce monfieur, mee sal fay but two tree fowre fiue word to dis francois: or fus Monfieur Le mouche en quelle partie de Fraunce esties vous ne?

1060

Walg. Sbloud, let mee come.

Maister Pisaro, we haue occasion of affaires,
Which calles vs hence with speed; wherefore I pray
Deferre this businesse till some fitter time,
And to performe what at the Exchange we spoke of.

Antho. A blefsing on that tongue, saith Anthony.

Pisa. Yes marry Gentlemen, I will, I will.

Aluaro to your taske, fall to your taske,
Ile beare away those three, who being heere,
Would set my Daughters on a merry pin: 1070
Then chearely try your luckes; but speake, and speed,
For you alone (say I) shall doe the deed.

Exeunt Pisaro, Haruy, Walgrane, and Higham.

Frisc. Heare you M. Moufe, did you dine to day at Paules with the rest of the Gentlemen there?

Antho. No sir, I am yet vndined.

Frisc. Mee thinkes you should haue a reasonable good
E. stomache

English-men for my money: or,

stomacke then by this time, as for me I can sell nothinge within me from my mouth to my Cod-peece but all Emptie, wherefore I thinke a peece of wisdome to goe in and see what Maudelin hath prouided for our Dinner maister Mousè will you goe in? 1080

Antho. With as good a stomacke and desire as your Frisco. Lett's passe in then (selfe.

Exeunt Frisco, and Anthonie.

Vanda. Han seg you Dochter, vor vat cause, voer why bede also much grooterlie strange, Ic seg you wat, if datt ghy speake to me, is datt ghy loue me.

Lauren. Ist that I care not for you, ist that your breath stinckes, if that your breath stinckes not, you must learne sweeter English or I shall neuer vnderstand your suite. 1090

Delion. Pardone moy Madame.

Math. Withall my heart so you offend no more.

Delio. Is dat an offence to be amorous di one belle Gentlewoman.

Math. I sir see your Belle Gentle-woman cannot be amorous of you.

Mar. Then if I were as that belle Gentlewomans louer, I would trouble her no further, nor be amorous any longer.

Aluar. Madona yet de Belleza of de face beutie deforme of all de Corpo may be such datt no perriculo, nor all de mal shaunce, can make him leaue hir dulce visage. 1100

Laur. But signor Aluaro if the periculo or mal shaunce were such, that she should loue and liue with an other, then the dulce visage must be leste in spite of the louers teeth, whilst he may whine at his owne ill fortune.

Vanda. Datts waer matresse, for it is vntrue saying, dey wint he taught dey verleift lie scrat sin gatt.

Math. And I thinke to are like to scrat there but neuer to claw any of my Sisters loue away. 1110

Vand. Dan sal your sistree do gainst her vaders will, for

A Woman will haue her will.

for your vader segt dat ick sal heb har vor mine wife.

Laur. I thinke not so fir, for I neuer heard him say so, but Ile goe in and aske him if his meaning be so.

Mari. Harke sifter signor Aluaro sayth, that I am the fayrest of all vs three,

Laur. Beleeue him not for heele tell any lie.
If so he thinks thou mayst be pleafd thereby,
Come goe with me and neere stand pratinge here,
I haue a iest to tell thee in thine eare,
Shall make you laugh: come let your signor stand,
I know there's not a Wench in all this Towne,
Scoffes at him more, or loues him lesse then thou.
Maister Vandalle, as much I say for you;
If needes you marry with an English Lasse,
Woe her in English, or sheele call you Ass.

1120

Mathe. Tut that's a French cogge; sure I thinke, There's nere a Wench in Fraunce not halfe so fond,
To woe and sue so for your Mounfership.

Delio. Par may foy Madame, she does tincke dare is no Wenche so dure as you: for de Fillee was cree dulce, tendre, and amarous for me to loue hir; now me tincke dat
I being such a fine man, you should loua me.

Mathe. So thinke not I, fir.

Delio. But so tincke esth oder Damofellas.

Mathe. Nay Ile lay my loue to your commaunde,
That my Sisters thinke not so: How say you sifter Mall?
Why how now Gentlemen, is this your talke?
What beaten in plaine field: where be your Maydes?
Nay then I see their louing humor fades,
And they resigne their intrest vp to mee;
And yet I cannot serue for all you three:
But least two should be madd, that I loue one,
You shall be all alike, and Ile loue none:
The world is scant, when so many Iacke Dawes,

English-men for my money: or,

Houer about one Coarse with greedy pawes:
Yf needes youle haue me stay till I am dead,
Carrion for Crowes, Mathea for her Ned:
And so farewell, wee Sisters doe agree,
To haue our willes, but nere to haue you three. Exeunt. 1150

Delio. Madama attendez, Madama: is she alle? doe she mockque de nows in such sort?

Vand. Oh de pestilence, noe if dat ick can neite dese Englese spreake vel, it shal hir Fader seg how dit is to passe gecomen.

Enter Pisaro.

Aluar. Ne parlate, see here signors de Fader.

Pisa. Now Friends, now Gentlemen, how speedes your worke; haue you not found them shrewd vnhappy girls?

Vand. Mester Pisaro, de Dochter maistris Laurentia calle 1160 me de Dyel, den Assé, for that ic can neit englesh spreken.

Alua. Ande dat we sal no parler, dat we sal no haur den for de wiue.

Pisa. Are they so lusty? Dare they be so proude?
Well, I shall find a time to meete with them:
In the meane season, pray frequent my house.

Enter Frisco running.

Ho now firra, whither are you running?

Frisç. About a little tiny businesse.

Pisa. What businesse, Assé?

1170

Frisç. Indeed I was not sent to you: and yet I was sent after the three Gen-men that din'd here, to bid them come to our house at ten a clocke at night, when you were abed.

Pisa. Ha, what is this? Can this be true?
What, art thou sure the Wenches bade them come?

Frisç. So they said, vnlesse their mindes be changed since: for a Woman is like a Weather-cocke they say, & I am sure of no more then I am certaine of: but Ile go in and bid them send you word, whether they shall come or no.

Pisa

A Woman will haue her will.

Pifa. No firra, stay you heere ; but one word more : 1180
Did they appoint thē come one by one, or else al together ?

Frisc. Altogether : Lord that such a young man as you should haue no more witt : why if they should come together, one could not make rome for them ; but comming one by one, theyle stand there if there were twenty of them.

Pifa. How this newes glads me, and reuiues my soule :
How say you firs, what will you haue a iest worth the telling ; nay worth the acting : I haue it Gentlemen,
I haue it Friends.

Alua. Signor Pisaro, I prey de gratia watte maneiire sal 1190
we haue ? wat will the parler ? wat bon doe you know
Signor Pisaro, dicheti noi signor Pisaro.

Pifa. Oh that youth so sweete, so soone should turne to age ; were I as you, why this were sport alone for me to doe.

Harke yee, harke yee ; heere my man,
Saith, that the Girles haue sent for Maister Heigham
And his two friends ; I know they loue them dear,
And therefore wish them late at night be heere
To reuell with them : Will you haue a iest, 1200
To worke my will, and giue your longings rest :
Why then M. Vandalle, and you two,
Shall soone at midnight come, as they should doe,
And court the Wenches ; and to be vnknowne,
And taken for the men, whom they alone
So much affect ; each one shall change his name :
Maister Vandalle, you shall take Heigham, and you
Younge Haruie, and monsieur Delion Ned,
And vnder shadows be of substance sped :
How like you this deuice ? how thinke you of it ? 1210

Delio. Ob de braue de galliarde deuise : me sal come by de nite and contier faire de Anglois Gentlehomes dicte nous ainfi monsieur Pisaro.

Pifa. You are in the right fir.

English-men for my money: or,

Alua. And I fall name me de signor Haruy, ende monsieur Delion fall be de piculo signor Ned, ende when mado-na Laurentia fall say, who be dare? mister Vandalle fall say, Oh my fout Laide, hier be your loue Mestro Heigham: Is no dis de brauifsime, maister Vandalle?

Vanda. Slaet vp den tromele, van ick fall come 1220
Vp to de camerken, wan my new Wineken
Slaet vp den tromele, van ick fall come.

Pisa. Ha, ha, ha, maister Vandalle,
I trow you will be merrie soone at night,
When you shall doe in deed, what now you hope of.

Vanda. I fall v seg vader, Ick fall tesh your Daughrer sich a ting, make her laugh too.

Pisa. Well my Sonnes all, (for so I count you shall)
What we haue heere deuis'd, prouide me for:
But aboue all, doe not (I pray) forget 1230
To come but one by one, as they did wish.

Vanda. Mar hort ens vader, ick veite neite de wecke to your houis, hort ens fall maister Frisco your manneken come to calle de me, and bring me to v house.

Pisa. Yes marry shall hee: see that you be ready,
And at the hower of eleuen sone at night:
Hie you to Bucklersburie to his Chamber,
And so direct him straight vnto my house:
My Sonne Aluaro, and monsieur Delion,
I know, doth know the way exceeding well: 1240
Well, weele to the Rose in Barken for an hower:
And firra Frisco, see you proue no blabbe.

Exeunt Pizaro, Aluaro, Delion, and Vandalle.

Frisco. Oh monstrous, who would thinke my Maister had so much witte in his old rotten budget: and yet yfaith he is not much troubled with it neither. Why what wife man in a kingdome would fende me for the Dutch- man? Does hee thinke Ile not coufen him: Oh fine, Ile
haue

A Woman will haue her will.

haue the braueſt ſport: Oh braue, Ile haue the gallenteſt ſport: Oh come; now if I can hold behinde, while I may 1250 laugh a while, I care not: Ha, ha, ha.

Enter Anthonie. (tily?)

Antho. Why how now Friſco, why laughteſt thou ſo har-

Friſc. Laugh M. Mouſe: Laugh, ha, ha, ha. (merry?)

Antho. Laugh, why ſhould I laugh? or why art thou ſo

Friſc. Oh maiſter Mouſe, maiſter Mouſe, it would make any Mouſe, Ratte, Catte, or Dogge, laugh to thinke, what ſport we ſhall haue at our houſe ſone at night: Ile tell you, all, my young Miſtreſſes ſent me after M. Heigham and his friendes, to pray them come to our houſe after my old 1260
Maiſter was a bed: Now I went, and I went; and I runne, and I went: and whom ſhould I meete, but my Maiſter and M. Piſaro and the Strangers; ſo my Maiſter very worſhipfully (I muſt needs ſay) examined me whither I went now? I durſt not tell him an vnruth, for feare of lying, but told him plainely and honeſtly mine arrande: Now who would thinke my Maiſter had ſuch a monſtrous plaguie wite, hee was as glad as could be; out of all ſcotch and notch glad, out of all count glad? and ſo firra he bid the three Vplandiſh-men come in their ſteades and woe my 1270 young Miſtreſſes: Now it made mee ſo laugh to thinke how they will be couſend, that I could not follow my Maiſter: But Ile follow him, I know he is gone to the Tauerne in his merry humor: Now if you will keepe this as ſecret as I haue done hitherto, wee ſhall haue the braueſt ſport ſoone, as can be. I muſt be gone, ſay nothing.

Antho. Well, it is ſo:

And we will haue good ſport, or it ſhall go hard;
This muſt the Wenches know, or all is marde.

Enter the three Siſters.

1280

Harken you M^{is}. Moll, M^{is}. Laurentia, M^{is}. Matt,
I haue ſuch newes (my Girls) will make you ſmile.

Marin.

English-men for my money : or,

Mari. What be they Maister, how I long to heare it ?

Antho. A Woman right, still longing, and with child,
For euery thing they heare, or light vpon :
Well. if you be mad Wenches, heare it now,
Now may your knaueries giue the deadliest blow
To night-walkers, caufe-droppers, or outlandish loue,
That ere was striften.

Math. Anthony Mowche,

1290

Moue but the matter ; tell vs but the iest,
And if you find vs slacke to execute,
Neuer giue credence, or belecue vs more. (loues,

Antho. Then know : The Strangers your Outlandish
Appoynted by your Father, comes this night
In stead of Haruie, Heigham, and young Ned, Vnder their shaddowes to get to your bed :
For Frisco simply told him why he went :
I need not to instruct, you can conceiue,
You are not Stockes nor Stones, but haue some store
Of witte and knauerie too.

1300

Mathe. Anthony, thankes

Is too too small a guerdon for this newes ;
You must be English : Well sir signor fowfe,
Ile teach you trickes for comming to our house.

Laur. Are you so craftie, oh that night were come,
That I might heare my Dutchman how hee'd sweare
In his owne mother Language, that he loues me :
Well, if I quit him not, I here pray God,
I may lead Apes in Hell, and die a Mayde ;
And that were worfer to me then a hanging 1310

Antho. Well said old honest huddles ; here's a heape
Of merrie Lasses : Well, for my selfe,
Ile hie mee to your Louers, bid them maske
With vs at night, and in some corner stay
Neere to our house, where they may make some play
Vpon your riuals, and when they are gon,

Come

A Woman will haue her will.

Come to your windowes.

Mari. Doe fo good Maifter.

Antho. Peace, begon; for this our sport,
Some body foone will moorne.

1320

Exeunt.

Enter Pifaro.

Pifa. How fauourable Heauen and Earth is feene,
To grace the mirthfull complot that is laide,
Nights Candles burne obfcure, and the pale Moone
Fauouring our drift, lyes buried in a Cloude:

I can but smile to fee the fimple Girles,
Hoping to haue their sweete-hearts here to night,
Tickled with extreame ioy, laugh in my face:
But when they finde, the Strangers in their fteades,

1330

Theyle change their note, and fing an other fong.
Where be thefe Girles heere? what, to bed, to bed:

Mawdlin make faft the Dores, rake vp the Fire;
Gods me, tis nine a clocke, harke Bow-bell rings: Knocke.
Some looke downe below, and fee who knockes:

And harke you Girles, fettle your hearts at reft,
And full refolue you, that to morrow morne,
You muft be wedd to fuch as I preferre;

I meane Aluaro and his other friendes:
Let me no more be troubled with your naves.
You fhall doe what Ile haue, and fo refolue.

Enter Moore.

Welcome M. Moore, welcome,
What winde a-gods name driues you foorth fo late?

Moore. Fayth fir, I am come to trouble you,
My wife this prefent night is brought to bed.

Pifa. To bed, and what hath God fent you?

Moor. A iolly Girle, fir.

Pifa. And God bleffe her: But what's your will fir,

Moor. Fayth fir, my houfe being full of Friends,
Such as (I thanke them) came to fee my wife?

1350

English-men for my money: or,

I would request you, that for this one night,
My daughter Susan might be lodged here.

Pisa. Lodge in my house, welcome withall my heart,
Matt harke you, she shall lye with you,
Trust me she could not come in fitter time.
For heere you sir, to morrow in the morning,
All my three Daughters must be married,
Good maister Moore lets haue your company,
What say you sir; Welcome honest friend.

Enter a Seruant.

Moor. How now firra whats the newes with you?

Pisa. Mowche heare you, stirre betimes to morrow,
For then I meane your Schollers shall be wed:
What newes, what newes man that you looke so sad,

Moor. Hee brings me word my wife is new false ficke,
And that my daughter cannot come to night:
Or if she does, it will be very late.

Pisa. Beleeue me I am then more sorry for it.
But for your daughter come she soone or late,
Some of vs will be vp to let her in,
For heere be three meanes not to sleepe to night:
Well you must be gone? commende me to your wife,
Take heede how you goe downe, the staires are bad,
Bring here a light.

1370

Moor. Tis well I thanke you sir. Exit.

Pisa. Good night maister Moore farwell honest friend,
Come, come to bed, to bed tis nine and past,
Doe not stand prating here to make me fetch you,
But gette you to your Chambers.

Exit Pisaro. 1380

Antho. Birlady heres short worke, harke you Girles,
Will you to morrow marry with the strangers.

Mall. Yfayth sir no Ile first leape out at window,
Before Marina marry with a stranger,

Antho. Yes but your father sweares, you shall haue one.

Ma. Yes but his daughters, sweares they shall haue none,
These

A Woman will haue her will.

These horefon Canniballs, these Philiftines,
These tango mongoes fhall not rule Ore me,
Ile haue my will and Ned, or Ile haue none.

Antbo. How will you get him? how will you get him? 1390
I know no other way except it be this,
That when your fathers in his foundeft fleepe,
You ope the Dore and runne away with them,

All fifters. So wee will rather then miffe of them.

Antbo. Tis well refolude yfayth and like your felues,
But heare you? to your Chambers prefently,
Leaft that your father doe difcry our drift, Exeunt Sifters.
Miftres Sufan fhould come but fhe cannot,
Nor perhaps fhall not, yet perhaps fhe fhall,
Might not a man conceipt a prettie ieft? 1400
And make as mad a Riddle as this is,
If all thinges fadge not, as all thinges fhould doe,
Wee fhall be fped y'fayth, Matt fhall haue hue.

Enter Vandalle and Frifco.

Sc. vii

Vand. Wear be you mester Frifco.

Frifc. Here fir, here fir, now if I could coufen him, take heede fir hers a poft.

Vand. Ick be fo groterly hot, datt ick fwette, Oh wen fal we come dare.

Frifc. Be you fo hotte fir, let me carry your Cloake, I 1410 affure you it will eafe you much.

Vand. Dare here, dare, tis fo Darke ey can neit fee.

Frifc. I, fo fo: now you may trauell in your Hofe and Doublet: now looke I as like the Dutchman, as if I were fpit out of his mouth: Ile ftraight home, & fpeake groote and broode, and toot and gibriſh; and in the darke Ile haue a fling at the Wenches. Well, I fay no more; farewell
M. Mendall, I muſt goe feeke my fortune. Exit Frifco.

Vanda. Mester Frifco, mester Frifco, wat fal you no fpeak; make you de Foole? Why mester Frifco; Oh de ſkellum, 1420
he

English-men for my money: or,

he be ga met de Cloake, me sal seg his mester, han mester Frisco, waer sidy mester Frisco. Exit Vandal.

Enter Haruie, Heigham, and Walgrau.

Sc. viii

Haru. Goes the case so well signor bottle-nose?

It may be we shall ouerreach your drift;

This is the time the Wenches sent vs word

Our bumbast Dutchman and his mates will come.

Well neat Italian, you must don my shape:

Play your part well, or I may haps pay you.

What, speechlesse Ned? fayth whereon mucest thou? 1430

Tis on your French coriuall, for my life:

Hee come ete vostre, and so foorth,

Till he hath foysted in a Brat or two?

How then, how then?

Walg. Swounds Ile geld him first,

Ere that infestious loszell reuell there.

Well Matt, I thinke thou knowst what Ned can doe;

Shouldst thou change Ned for Noddy, mee for him,

Thou didst not know thy losse, yfayth thou didst not.

Heigh. Come leaue this idle chatte, and lets prouide 1440

Which of vs shall be scar-crow to these Fooles,

And set them out the way?

Walg. Why that will I.

Haru. Then put a Sword into a mad-mans hand:

Thou art so hasty, that but crosse thy humor,

And thou't be ready crosse them ore the pates:

Therefore for this time, Ile supply the rome.

Heigh. And so we shall be sure of chatt enough;

Youle hold them with your floutes and gullles so long,

That all the night will scarcely be enough 1450

To put in practise, what we haue deuifde:

Come, come, Ile be the man shall doe the deed.

Haru. Well, I am content to faue your longing.

But soft, where are we? Ha, heere's the house,

Come,

A Woman will haue her will.

Come, let vs take our stands: Fraunce stand you there,
And Ned and I will crosse t'other side.

Heigh. Doe so: But hush, I heare one passing hither.

Enter Aluaro.

Aluar. Oh de fauorable aspect of de heauen, tis so obscure, so darke, so blacke dat no mortalle creature can know de me: I pray a Dio I sal haue de reight Wench: Ah si I be recht, here be de huis of signor Pisaro, I fall haue de madona Marina, and daruor I fall knocke to de dore.

He knockes.

Heigh. What a pox are you mad or druncke;
What, doe you meane to breake my Glasse?

Alua. Wat be dat Glasse? Wat druncke, wat mad?

Heigh. What Glasse sir; why my Glasse: and if you be so crancke, Ile call the Constable; you will not enter into a mans house (I hope) in spight of him?

Haru. Nor durst you be so bold as to stond there,
Yf once the Maister of the House did know it.

Alua. Is dit your Hous? be you de Signor of dis Cassa?

Heigh. Signor me no signors, nor cassa me no cassas:
but get you hence, or you are like to taste of the Bastinado.

Heigh. Do, do, good Ferdinand, pummell the logerhead.

Alua. Is this neit the Hous of mester Pisaro?

Heigh. Yes marry when? can you tell: how doe you?
I thanke you heartily, my finger in your mouth.

Alua. Wat be dat?

Heigh. Marry that you are an Assè and a Logerhead,
To seeke maister Pisaros house heere.

Alua. I prey de gratia, wat be dis plashe?
Wat doe ye call dit strete?

Heigh. What sir; why Leaden-ball, could you not see the foure Spoutes as you came along?

Alua. Certenemento Leden ball, I hit my hed by de way, dare may be de voer Spouts: I prey de gratia, with be de wey to Crochefriers?

English-men for my money: or,

Heigh. How, to Croched-friers? Marry you must goe 1490 along till you come to the Pumpe, and then turne on your right hand.

Alua. Signor, adio.

Exit Aluaro.

Haru. Farewell and be hang'd Signor:
Now for your fellow, if the Assè would come.

Enter Delio.

Delio. By my trot me doe so mush tincke of dit Gentlewoman de fine Wenshe, dat me tincke esh houer ten day, and esh day ten yeare, till I come to her: Here be de huïfe of sin vader, fall alle and knocke. He knocks. 1500

Heigh. What a bots ayle you, are you madd?
Will you runne ouer me and breake my Glaffes?

Delio. Glaffes, wat Glaffes? Prey is monsieur Pisaro to de mayson?

Haru. Harke Ned, there's thy substauce

Walg. Nay by the Masse, the substannce's heere,
The shaddow's but an Assè.

Heigh. What Maister Pisaro?
Logerhead, heere's none of your Pisaros?

Delio. Yes but dit is the housis of mester Pisaro. 1510

Walg. Will not this monsieur Motley take his answer?
Ile goe and knocke the assè about the pate.

Har. Nay by your leauè sir, but Ile hold your worship.
This sturre we should haue had, had you stood there.

Walg. Why, would it not vexè one to heare the assè,
Stand prating here of dit and dan, and den and dog?

Haru. One of thy mettle Ned, would surely doe it:
But peace, and harke to the rest.

Delio. Doe no de fine Gentlewoman matresse Mathea dwell in dit Plashe? 1520

Heigh. No sir, here dwels none of your fine Gantle-woman.
Twere a good deed firra, to see who you are;
You come hither to steale my Glaffes.
And then counterfeite you are going to your Queanes.

Delio.

A Woman will haue her will.

Delio. I be deceu dis darke neight ; here be no Wenſhe, I be no in de right plashe : I prey Monſieur, wat be name dis Streete, and wiſhe be de way to Croſhe-friers ?

Heigh. Marry this is Fanchurch-ſtreete,
And the beſt way to Crotched-friers, is to follow your noſe

Delio. Vanſbe, ſtreete, how ſhaunce me come to Vanſbe. 1530 ſtreete ? vell monſieur, me muſt alle to Croche-friers.

Exit Delion.

Walg. Farewell fortipence, goe ſeeke your Signor,
I hope youle finde your ſelues two Dolts anone :
Hull Fredinand, I heare the laſt come ſtamping hither.

Enter Friſco.

Friſc. Ha ſirra, I haue left my fatte Dutchman, and runne my ſelfe almoſt out of breath too : now to my young miſtreſſes goe I, ſome body caſt an old ſhoe after me : but foſt, how ſhall I doe to counterſeite the Dutchman, be cauſe 1540
I ſpeake Engliſh ſo like a naturall ; Tuſh, take you no thought for that, let me alone for Squintum ſquantum : foſt, her's my Maiſters houſe, Heigh. Whoſe there.

Friſc. Whoſe there, why ſir here is : Nay thats too good Engliſh ; Why here be de growtte Dutchman.

Heigh. Then theres not onely a growtte head, but an Aſſe alſo.

Friſc. What be yoo, yoo be an Engliſh Oxe to call a gentle moan Aſſe. 1550

Haru. Harke Ned yonders good greeting.

Friſc. But yoo, and yoo be Maiſter Mouſe that dwell here, tell your matreſſa Laurentia datt her ſweete harte Maiſter Vandall would ſpeake with horde, Heigh. Maiſter Mendall, gette you gon, leaſt you get a broken Pate and ſo marre all : heres no entrance for miſtires Laurentios ſweete heart.

Friſc. Gods ſacaren watt is the luck now.

Shall

English-men for my money: or,

Shall not I come to my friend maister Pisar Hoofe?

Heigh. Yes and to maister Pisaros Shoes too, if hee or 1560 they were here.

Frisco. Why my groute friend, M. Pisaro doth dwel here.

Heigh. Sirra, you lye, heere dwells no body but I, that haue dwelt here this one & forty yeares, and sold Glasse.

Walg. Lye farder, one and fifty at the least.

Fris. Hoo, hoo, hoo; do you giue the Gentleman the ly?

Haru. I sir, and will giue you a licke of my Cudgell, if yee stay long and trouble the whole streete with your bawling: hence dolt, and goe seeke M. Pisaros House.

Frisco. Goe seeke M. Pisaros House;

1570

Where shall I goe seeke it?

Heigh. Why, you shall goe seeke it where it is.

Frisco. That is here in Croched-friers.

Heigh. How Loger-head, is Croched-friers heere?

I thought you were some such drunken Ass,

That come to seeke Croched-friers in Tower-streete:

But get you along on your left hand, and be hang'd;

You haue kept me out of my Bedd with your bawling,

A good while longer then I would haue been.

Frisco. Ah, ah, How is this? Is not this Croched-friers?

Tell mee, Ile hold a Crowne they gaue me so much Wine at the Tauerne, that I am druncke, and know not ont.

Haru. My Dutchman's out his Compasse & his Card;
Hee's reckning what Winde hath droue him hither:
Ile sweare hee thinkes neuer to see Pisaros.

Frisco. Nay tis so, I am sure druncke: Soft let mee see, what was I about? Oh now I haue it, I must goe to my Maisters house and counterfeite the Dutchman, and get my young Mistresse: well, and I must turne on my left hand, for I haue forgot the way quite and cleane:

1590

Fare de well good friend, I am a simple Dutchman I.

Exit Frisco.

Heigh. Faire weather after you. And now my Laddes,
Haue

A Woman will haue her will.

Haue I not plide my part as I should doe ?

Haru. Twas well, twas well : But now let's cast about,
To fet these Woodcocks farder from the Houfe,
And afterwards returne vnto our Girls.

Walg. Content, content; come, come make haste. Exeunt.

Enter Alua.

Alua. I goe and turne, and dan I come to dis plashe, I 1600 can no tell waer, and fall doe I can no tell watt, turne by the Pumpe; I pumpe it faire.

Enter Delio.

Delio. Me alle, ende alle & can no come to Croche-friers.

Enter Frisco.

Frisc. Oh miserable Blacke-pudding, if I can tell which is the way to my Maisters houfe, I am a Red-herring, and no honest Gentleman.

Alua. Who parlato daer ?

Delio. Who be der ? who alle der ?

1610

Frisc. How's this ? For my life here are the Strangers:
Oh that I had the Dutchmans Hofe, that I might creepe into the Pockets; they'le all three fall vpon me & beat me.

Alua. Who doe der ander ?

Delio. Amis ?

Frisc. Oh braue; it's no body but M. Pharoo and the Frenchman going to our Houfe, on my life: well, Ile haue some sport with them, if the Watch hinder me not.

Who goes there ?

Delio. Who parle der, in wat plashe, in wat streat be you? 1620

Frisc. Why fir, I can tell where I am; I am in Tower- streete: Where a Diuell be you ?

Delio. Io be here in Lede-ball.

Frisc. In Leaden-ball? I trow I shall meeete with you a-none: in Leaden-ball? What a simple Assè is this Frenchman.
Some more of this: Where are you fir ?

Alua. Moy I be here in Vansbe-streete.

G.

Frisc.

Engliſh-men for my money : or,

Friſc. This is excellent ynſayth, as fit as a Fiddle: I in Tower-ſtreete, you in Leaden-ball, and the third in Fanchurch-ſtreete; and yet all three heare one another, and all three 1630 ſpeake together: either wee muſt be all three in Leaden-ball, or all three in Tower-ſtreete, or all three in Fanchurch-ſtreete; or all three Fooles.

Alua. Monſieur Gentle-home, can you well teſh de wey to Croſbe-frier?

Friſc. How to Croched-friers? I, I fir, paſſing well if you will follow mee. (tanks.

Delio. I dat me ſal monſier Gentle-home, and giue you

Friſc. And monſiur Pbaro, I ſhall lead you ſuch a iaunt, that you ſhall ſcarce giue me thankes for. Come firrs 1640 follow mee: now for a durtie Puddle, the piſſing Condit, or a great Poſt, that might turne theſe two from Affes to Oxen by knocking their Hornes to their Fore-heads.

Alua. Whaer be de now ſignor?

Friſc. Euen where you will ſignor, for I know not: Soft I ſmell: Oh pure Noſe.

Delio. VVat do you ſmell?

Friſc. I haue the ſcent of London-ſtone as full in my noſe, as Abchurch-lane of mother Walles Paſties: Sirrs feele about, I ſmell London-ſtone. 1650

Alua. Wat be dis?

Friſc. Soft let me ſee; feele I ſhould ſay, for I cannot ſee: Oh lads pray for my life, for we are almoſt at Croched-friers.

Delio. Dats good: but watt be dis Poſt?

Friſc. This Poſt; why tis the May-pole on Iuie-bridge going to Westmiuſter.

Delio. Ho Weſmiſtere, how come we tol Weſmiſtere?

Friſc. Why on your Legges fooles, how ſhould you goe? Soft, heere's an other: Oh now I know in deede where I am; wee are now at the fardeſt end of Shoredich, 1660 for this is the May-pole.

Delo. Sordiche; O dio, dere be ſome nautie tinge, ſome Spirite

A Woman will haue her will.

Spirite do leade vs.

Frisco. You say true sir, for I am afeard your French spirit is vp so far alredy, that you brought me this way, because you would finde a Charme for it at the Blew Bore in the Spittle: But soft, who comes heere?

Enter a Belman.

Bel. Maydes in your Smocks, looke wel to your Locks, Your Fier and your Light; and God giue you good night. 1670

Delia. Monsieur Gentle-home, I prey parle one, too, tree, fore, words vore vs to dis oull man.

Frisco. Yes marry shall I sir. I pray honest Fellow, in what Streete be wee?

Bel. Ho Frisco, whither friske you at this time of night?

Delio. What, Monsieur Frisco?

Alua. Signor Frisco?

Frisco. The same, the same: Harke yee honesty, mee thinkes you might doe well to haue an M. vnder your Girdle, considering how Signor Pifaro, and this other 1680 Monsieur doe hold of mee.

Bell. Oh sir, I cry you mercie; pardon this fault, and Ile doe as much for you the next time.

Frisco. Well, pasing ouer superfluicall talke, I pray what Street is this; for it is so darke, I know not where I am?

Bell. Why art thou druncke, Dost thou not know Fanchurch-streete?

Frisco. I sir, a good Fellow may sometimes be ouerseene among Friends; I was drinking with my Maister and these Gentlemen, and therefore no maruaile though I be 1690 none of the wisest at this present: But I pray thee Good-man Buttericke, bring mee to my Maisters House.

Bel. Why I will, I will, push that you are so strange now adayes: but it is an old said saw, Honors change Manners.

Frisco. Good-man Buttericke will you walke afore: Come honest Friends, will yec goe to our House?

Delio. Ouy monfieur Frisco.

Alua. Si signor Frisco.

Enter Vandalle.

Sc. ix

Vand. Oh de skellam Frisco, ic weit neit waer dat ic be, ic goe and hit my nofe op dit poft, and ic goe and hit my nofe op danden poft; Oh de villaine: Well, waer ben ic now? Haw laet fyen is dut neit croshe vrier, ya feker fo ift and dit M. Pifaros huis: Oh de good fhaunce, well ic fall now haue de Wenshe Laurentia, meftris Laurentia. 1702

Enter Laurentia, Marina, Mathea, aboue.

Mari. Who's there, Maifter Haruie?

Math. Maifter Walgrau?

Laur. Maifter Heigham?

Vand. Ya my Loue, here be mester Heigham your groot frinde. 1710

Mari. How, Maifter Heigham my grot vrinde? Out alas, here's one of the Strangers.

Lauren. Peace you Mammet, let's fee which it is; wee may chauce teach him a ftrange tricke for his learning: M. Heigham, what wind driues you to our houfe fo late?

Vand. Oh my leif Mesken, de loue tol v be fo groot, dat het bring me out my bed voor you.

Math. Ha, ha, we know the Affe by his eares; it is the Dutchman: what fhall we doe with him? 1720

Laure. Peace, let him not know, that you are heere: M. Heigham, if you will ftay awhile that I may fe, if my Father be a fleepe, and Ile make meanes we may come together

Vand. Dat fal ick my Loua. Is dit no well counterfett I fpeake fo like mester Heigham as tis poffible.

Laure. Well, what fhall we doe with this Lubber? (Louer I fhould fay.)

Math. What fhall wee doe with him? Why crowne him with a ——

Mari. Fie Slutt: No, wele vfe him clenlier; you know we haue neuer a Signe at the dore, would not the ieff proue currant, 1730

A Woman will haue her will.

currant, to make the Dutchman supply that want.

Laure. Nay, the foole wil cry out, & so wake my father.

Mat. Why, then wele cut the Rope & cast him downe.

Laur. And so iest out a hanging; let's rather draw him vp in the Basket, and so starue him to death this frosty night.

Mari. In sadnesse, well aduifde: Sifter, doe you holde him in talke, and weele prouide it whilst.

Laur. Goe to then. M. Heigham, oh sweete M Higham, doth my Father thinke that his vnkindnes can part you & 1740 poore Laurentia? No, no, I haue found a drift to bring you to my Chamber, if you haue but the heart to venter it.

Vand. Ventre, fal ick goe to de see, and be de see, and ore de see, and in de see voer my sweete Loue.

Laur. Then you dare goe into a Basket; for I know no other meanes to inioy your companie, then so: for my Father hath the Keyes of the Dore.

Vand. Sal ick climb vp tot you? fal ick fly vp tot you? fal ick, wat segdy?

Math. Bid him doe it Sifter, wee shall see his cunning. 1750

Laur. Oh no, so you may catch a fal. There M. Heigham, Put your selfe into that Basket, and I will draw you vp: But no words I pray you, for feare my Sifter heare you.

Vand. No, no, no word: Oh de seete Wenshe, Ick come, Ick come.

Laur. Are you ready maister Heigham?

Vand. Ia ick my fout Lady.

Mari. Merily then my Wenches.

Laur. How heauie the Affe is: Maister Heigham, is there any in the Basket but your selfe? 1760

Vand. Neit, neit, dare be no man.

Laur. Are you vp fir?

Vand. Neit, neit.

Mari. Nor neuer are you like to climbe more higher: Sisters, the Woodcock's caught, the Foole is cag'd.

Vand. My fout Lady I be nuc neit vp, pul me tot v.

Math. When can you tell; what maister Vandalle,

English-men for my monoy: or,

A wether beaten foldier an old wench,
Thus to be ouer reach'd by three young Girles:
Ah firra now weele bragge with Miftres Moore,
To haue as fine a Parret as she hath,
Looke sisters what a pretty foole it is:
What a greene greasie shyning Coate he hath,
An Almonde for Parret, a Rope for Parret.

Vand. Doe you moc que me feger feger,
I fal feg your vader.

Laur. Doe and you dare, you see here is your fortune,
Disquiet not my father; if you doe,
Ile send you with a vengeance to the ground,
Well we must confesse we trouble you,
And ouer watching makes a wiseman madde,
Much more a foole, theres a Cushon for you.

1780

Mar. To bore you through the nose.

Laur. To lay your head on.

Couch in your Kennell sleape and fall to rest,
And so good night for London maydes skorne still,
A Dutch-man should be seene to curbe their will.

Vand. Hort ye Daughter, hort ye? gods se ker kin? will ye no let me come tot you? ick bid you let me come tot you watt fal ick don, ick woud neit vor vn hundred pounce
Aluaro & Delion, should see me ope dit maner, well wat fal 1790 ick don, ick mout neit cal: vor de Wenshes wil cut de rope and breake my necke; ick fal here bleauen til de morning, & dan ick fal cal to mester Pisaro, & make him shafe & shite his dauctors: Oh de skellum Frisco, Oh des cruell Hores.

Enter Pisaro.

Pisa. Ile put the Light out, leaft I be espied,
For closely I haue stolne me forth a doares,
That I might know, how my three Sonnes haue sped.
Now (afore God) my heart is pafsing light,
That I haue ouerreach'd the Englishmen:

1800

Ha,

A Woman will haue her will.

Ha, ha, Maister Vandalle, many such nights
Will swage your bigg swolne bulke, and make it lancke :
When I was young; yet though my Haires be gray,
I haue a Young mans spirit to the death,
And can as nimbly trip it with a Girle,
As those which fold the spring-tide in their Beards :
Lord how the verie thought of former times,
Supples these neere dried limbes with actiuenesse :
Well, thoughts are shaddowes, sooner lost then feene,
Now to my Daughters, and their merrie night, 1810
I hope Aluaro and his companie,
Haue read to them morrall Philosophie,
And they are full with it: Heere Ile stay,
And tarry till my gallant youths come forth.

Enter Haruie, Walgraue, and Heigham. (thou?

Heigh. You mad-man, wild-oats, mad-cap, where art
Walg. Heere afore.

Haru. Oh ware what loue is? Ned hath found the scent ;
And if the Connie chance to misse her Burrough,
Shee's ouer-borne yfayth, she cannot stand it. 1820

Pisa. I know that voyce, or I am much deceiued.

Heigh. Come, why loyter wee? this is the Dore:
But soft, heere's one asleepe.

Walg. Come, let mee feele :

Oh tis some Rogue or other; spurne him, spurne him.

Haru. Be not so wilfull, prethee let him lie. (house,

Heigh. Come backe, come backe, for wee are past the Yonder's Matheas Chamber with the light.

Pisa. Well fare a head, or I had been discride.
Gods mee, what make the Youngsters heere so late? 1830
I am a Rouge, and spurne him: well Iacke fauce,
The Rogue is waking yet, to marre your sport.

Walg. Matt, Mistris Mathea; where be these Girles?

Enter

English-men for my monoy: or,

Enter Mathea alone.

Math. VVho's there below?

Walg. Thy Ned, kind Ned, thine honest trusty Ned.

Math. No, no, it is the Frenchman in his stead,
That Mounfieur motlicoate that can difsemble:
Heare you Frenchman, packe to your Whores in Fraunce;
Though I am Portingale by the Fathers side,
And therefore should be lustfull, wanton, light;
Yet goodman Goofecap, I will let you know,
That I haue so much English by the Mother,
That no bace flauering French shall make me stoope:
And so, sir Dan-delion fare you well.

1840

Walg. What speachless, not a word: why how now Ned?

Har. The Wench hath tane him downe,
He hangs his head.

Walg. You Dan-de-lion, you that talke so well:
Harke you a word or two good Mistris Matt,
Did you appoynt your Friends to meete you heere,
And being come, tell vs of Whores in Fraunce,
A Spanish Iennet, and an English Mare,
A Mongrill, halfe a Dogge and halfe a Bitch;
VVith Tran-dido, Dil-dido, and I know not what?
Heare you, if you'le run away with Ned,
And be content to take me as you find me,
VVhy so law, I am yours: if otherwise,
Youle change your Ned, to be a Frenchmans Trull?
VVhy then, Madame Delion, Ie vous laissera a Dio, et la bon fortune.

1850

Math. That voyce assures mee, that it is my Loue:
Say truly, Art thou my Ned? art thou my Loue?

Walg. Swounds who should I be but Ned?
You make me sweare.

Enter aboute Marina.

Mari. Who speake you to? Mathea who's below?

Haru. Marina.

Mari.

A Woman will haue her will.

Mari. Young maister Haruy? for that voyce faith so.

Enter Laurentia.

1870

Alua. Speake sifter Matt, is not my true Loue there?

Math. Ned is.

Laur. Not maister Heigham?

Heighb. Laurentia, heere.

Laur. Yfayth thou'rt welcome.

Heighb. Better cannot Fall.

Math. Sweete, so art thou.

Mari. As much to mine.

Laur. Nay Gentles, welcome all.

Pisa. Here's cunning harlotries, they feed these off
With welcome, and kind words, whilst other Lads
Reuell in that delight they should possesse:
Good Girls, I promise you I like you well. 1880

Mari. Say maister Haruy, saw you, as you came,
That Leacher, which my Sire appoynts my man;
I meane that wanton base Italian,
That Spannish-leather spruce companion:
That anticke Ape trickt vp in fashion?
Had the Assé come, I'de learne him, difference been Betwixt an English Gentleman and him. 1890

Heighb. How would you vse him (sweete)
If he should come?

Mari. Nay nothing (sweet) but only wash his crowne:
Why the Assé woos in such an amorous key,
That he presumes no Wench should say him nay:
Hee flauers not his Fingers, wipes his Bill,
And sweares infayth you shall, infayth I will;
That I am almost madd to bide his woeing.

Heighb. Looke what he said in word, Ile act in doing.

Walg. Leaué thought of him, for day steales on apace, 1900
And to our Loues: Will you performe your words;
All things are ready, and the Parson stands,

H.

To

English-men for my money : or,

To ioyne as hearts in hearts, our hands in hands ;
Night fauours vs, the thing is quickly done,
Then truffe vp bagg and Bagages, and be gone :
And ere the morninge, to augment your ioyes,
Weele make you mothers of fixe goodly Boyes.

Heigh. Promise them three good Ned, and say no more.

Walg. But Ile get three, and if I gette not foure.

Pisa. Theres a found Carde at Maw, a lustie lad, 1910
Your father thought him well, when one he had,

Heigh. What say you sweetes, will you performe your wordes ?

Matt. Loue to true loue, no lesser meede affordes ?
Wee say we loue you, and that loues fayre breath
Shall lead vs with you round about the Earth :
And that our loues, vowes, wordes, may all proue true,
Prepare your Armes, for thus we flie to you. they Embrace.

Walg. This workes like waxe, now ere to morrow day,
If you two ply it but as well as I, 1920
Weele worke our landes out of Pisaros Daughters :
And canfell all our bondes in their great Bellies,
When the slaue knowes it, how the Roge will curse.

Matt. Sweete hart.

Walg. Matt.

Mathe. Where art thou.

Pisa. Here.

Mathe. Oh Iesus heres our father.

Walg. The Diuell he is.

Har u Maister Pisaro, twenty times Good morrow. 1930

Pisa, Good morrow? now I tell you Gentlemen,
You wrong and moue my patience ouermuch,
What will you Rob me, Kill me, Cutte my Throte :
And fet mine owne bloud here against me too,
You hufwifes? Baggages? or what is worfe,
Wilfull, stoubborne, difobedient :
Vse it not Gentlemen, abuse me not,

A Woman will haue her will.

Newgate hath rome, theres law enough in England,

Heigh. Be not so testie, heare what we can say.

Pisa. Will you be wiu'de? first learne to keepe a wife, 1940
Learne to be thriftie, learne to keepe your Lands,
And learne to pay your debts to, I aduise, else.

Walg. What else, what Lands, what Debts, what will you doe?

Haue you not Land in Morgage for your mony,

Nay since tis so, we owe you not a Penny,

Frette not, Fume not, neuer bende the Browe:

You take Tenn in the hundred more then Law,

We can complayne, extortion, simony,

Newgate hath Rome, thers Law enough in England. 1950

Heigh. Prethe haue done.

Walg. Prethy me no Prethies.

Here is my wife, Sbloud touch her, if thou darst,

Hearst thou, Ile lie with her before thy face,

Against the Crosse in Cheape, here, any where,

What you old craftie Fox you.

Heigh. Ned, stop there.

Pisa. Nay, nay speake out, beare witneffe Gentlemen,

Whers Mowche, charge my Musket, bring me my Bill,

For here are some that meane to Rob thy maister. 1960

Enter Anthony.

I am a Fox with you, well Iack sawce,

Beware leaft for a Goofe, I pray on you.

Exeunt Pizaro and Daughters.

In baggages, Mowche make fast the doore.

Walg. A vengeance on ill lucke,

Antbo. What neuer storme,

But bridle anger with wife gouernment.

Heigh. Whom? Anthony our friend, Ah now our hopes,

H 2.

Are

English-men for my money: or,

Are found too light to ballance our ill happes.

1970

Antho. Tut nere say fo, for Anthony

Is not deuoyde of meanes to helpe his Friends.

Walg. Swounds, what a diuell made he foorth so late?

Ile lay my life twas hee that fainde to sleepe,

And we all vnuspitious, tearmde a Roage:

Oh God, had I but knowne him; if I had,

I would haue writt such Letters with my Sword

Vpon the bald skin of his parching pate,

That he should nere haue liude to crosse vs more.

Antho. These menaces are vaine, and helpeth naught: 1980

But I haue in the deapth of my conceit

Found out a more materiall stratagem:

Harke Maister Walgraue, yours craues quicke dispatch,

About it straight, stay not to say farewell. Exit Walgraue.

You Maister Heigham, hie you to your Chamber,

And stirre not foorth, my shaddow, or my selfe,

Will in the morning earely visit you;

Build on my promise fir, and good night. Exit Heigham.

Last, yet as great in loue, as to the first:

Yf you remember, once I told a iest,

1990

How feigning to be sicke, a Friend of mine

Possess the happy issue of his Loue:

That counterfeited humor must you play;

I need not to instruct, you can conceiue,

Vse maister Browne your Host, as chiefe in this:

But first, to make the matter seeme more true,

Sickly and sadly bid the churle good night;

I heare him at the Window, there he is.

Enter Pifaro aboue.

Now for a tricke to ouerreach the Diuell.

2000

I tell you fir, you wrong my maister much,

And then to make amends, you giue hard words:

H'ath been a friend to you; nay more, a Father:

I promise you, tis most vnghently done.

Pifa.

A Woman will haue her will.

Pifa. I, well said Mouche, now I see thy loue,
And thou shalt see mine, one day if I liue.
None but my Daughters fir, hangs for your tooth :
I'de rather see them hang'd first, ere you get them.

Haru. Maister Pifaro, heare a dead man speake,
Who sings the wofull accents of his end. 2010
I doe confesse I loue; then let not loue
Proue the sad engine of my liues remooue :

Marinaes rich Possession was my blisse ?
Then in her losse, all ioy eclipsed is :
As euery Plant takes vertue of the Sunne ;
So from her Eyes, this life and being sprung :
But now debar'd of those cleare shyning Rayes,
Death for Earth gapes, and Earth to Death obeyes :
Each word thou spokst, (oh speake not so againe)
Bore Deaths true image on the Word ingrauen ; 2020
Which as it flue mixt with Heauens ayerie breath,
Summond the dreadful Sessions of my death :
I leaue thee to thy wish, and may th'euent
Prooue equall to thy hope and hearts content.

Marina to that hap, that happiest is ;
My Body to the Graue, my Soule to blisse.
Haue I done well ?

Exit Haruie.

Antho. Excellent well in troth.

Pifar. I, goe ; I, goe : your words moue me as much,
As doth a Stone being cast against the ayre. 2030
But soft, What Light is that ? What Folkes be those ? Oh tis Aluaro & his other Friends, Ile downe & let them in. Exit.

Enter Belman, Frisco, Vandalle, Delion, & Aluaro.

Frisco. Where are we now gaffer Buttericke ? (wits ?

Bell. Why know you not Croched-friers, where be your Aluar. Wat be tis Crosb-viers ? vidite padre dare ; tacke you dat, me sal trouble you no farre.

Bell. I thanke you Gentlemen, good night :

Good night Frisco.

Exit Belman.

English-men for my money: or,

Frisco. Farewell Buttericke, what a Clowne it is :
Come on my maisters merrily, Ile knocke at the dore.

2040

Antbo. Who's there, our three wife Woers, Blockhead our man? had he not been,
They might haue hanged them-selues,
For any Wenches they had hit vpon :
Good morrow, or good den, I know not whether.

Delio. Monsieur de Mowche, wat macke you out de Houis so late?

Enter Pifaro below.

Pifa. What, what, young men & sluggards? fy for shame 2050
You trifle time at home about vaine toyes,

Whilst others in the meane time, steale your Brides :

I tell you sir, the English Gentlemen

Had wel-ny mated you, and mee, and all ;

The Dores were open, and the Girles abroad,

Their Sweet-hearts ready to receiue them to :

And gone forsooth they had been, had not I

(I thinke by reuelation) stopt their flight :

But I haue coopt them vp, and so will keepe them.

But sirra Frisco, where's the man I sent for ?

VVhose Cloake haue you got there ?

How now, where's Vandalle?

Frisco. For-sooth he is not heere :

Maister Mendall you meane, doe you not ?

Pifar. VVhy logerhead, him I sent for, where is he ?

VVhere hast thou been? How hast thou spent thy time ?

Did I not send thee to my Sonne Vandalle?

Frisco. I M. Mendall; why forsooth I was at his Chamber, and wee were comming hitherward, and he was very hot, and bade me carry his Cloake; and I no sooner had it, 2070 but he (being very light) firkes me downe on the left hand, and I turnd downe on the left hand, and so lost him.

Pifa. VVhy then you turnd together, Affe.

Frisco. No sir, we neuer saw one another since.

Pifa.

A Woman will haue her will.

Pifa. VVhy, turnd you not both on the left hand?

Frisc. No for-footh we turnd both on the left hand.

Pifa. Hoyda, why yet you went both together.

Frisc. Ah no, we went cleane contrary one from another.

Pifa. VVhy Dolt, why Patch, why Affe,
On which hand turnd yee?

2080

Frisc. Alas, alas, I cannot tell for-footh, it was so darke
I could not see, on which hand we turnd: But I am sure we turnd one way.

Pifa. VVas euer creature plagud with such a Dolt?
My Sonne Vandalle now hath lost himselfe,
And shall all night goe straying bout the Towne;
Or meete with some strange Watch that knowes him not;
And all by such an arrant Affe as this.

Anth. No, no, you may soone smel the Dutchmans lodg-
Now for a Figure: Out alas, what's yonder? (ing: 2090)

Pifa. VVhere?

Frisc. Hoyda, hoyda, a Basket: it turnes, hoe.

Pifa. Peace ye Villaine, and let's see who's there?
Goe looke about the House; where are our weapons?
VVhat might this meane?

Frisc. Looke, looke, looke; there's one in it, he peeps out:
Is there nere a Stone here to hurle at his Nose.

Pifa. VVhat, wouldst thou breake my VVindowes with a Stone? How now, who's there, who are you fir?

Frisc. Looke, he peeps out againe: Oh it's M. Mend- 2100 all, it's M. Mendall: how got he vp thither?

Pifa. What, my Sonne Vandalle, how comes this to passe?

Alua. Signor Vandalle, wat do yo goe to de wenshe in de Basket?

Vand. Oh Vadere, Vadere, here be fush cruell Dochterkens, ick ben also wery, also wery, also cold; for be in dit little Basket: Ic prey helpe dene.

Frisc. He lookes like the signe of the Mouth without Bishops gate, gaping, and a great Face, and a great Head,
and

English-men for my money: or,

and no Body.

2110

Pisa. Why how now Sonne, what haue your Adamants
Drawne you vp so farre, and there left you hanging Twixt Heauen and Earth like Mahomets Sepulchre?

Antho. They did vnkindly, who so ere they were,
That plagu'd him here, like Tantalus in Hell,
To touch his Lippes like the desired Fruite,
And then to snatch it from his gaping Chappes.

Alua. A little farder signor Vandalle, and dan you may put v hed into de windo and cash de Wensh.

Vand. Ick prey Vader dat you helpe de mee, Ick prey
Goddie Vader. 2120

Pisa. Helpe you, but how?

Frisc. Cut the Rope.

Antho. Sir, Ile goe in and see,
And if I can, Ile let him downe to you. Exit Anthony.

Pisa. Doe gentle Mouche: Why but here's a iest;
They say, high climers haue the greatest falles:
If you should fall; as how youle doe I know not,
Birlady I should doubt me of my Sonne:
Pray to the Rope to hold: Art thou there Mouche? 2130

Enter Anthony aboue.

Antho. Yes sir, now you may chuse, whether youle stay till I let him downe, or whether I shall cut him downe?

Frisc. Cut him downe maister Mowse, cut him downe
And let's see, how hele tumble.

Pisa. Why fauce, who ask'd your counsaile?
Let him downe.

What, with a Cusfhion too? why you prouided
To lead your life as did Diogines;
And for a Tubb, to creepe into a Basket. 2140

Vanda. Ick fall feg v Vader, Ick quame here to your Huife and spreake tol de Dochterken.

Frisc. M. Mendall, you are welcome out of the Basket:
I smell a Ratt, it was not for nothing, that you lost me.

Vand.

A Woman will haue her will.

Vand. Oh skellum, you run away from me.

Pifa. I thought so firra, you gaue him the slip.

Frisfc. Faw, no for-footh; Ile tell you how it was: when we come from Bucklers-Burie into Corn-Wale, and I had taken the Cloake, then you should haue turnd downe on your left hand and so haue gone right forward, and so turnd vp againe, and so haue croft the streate; and you like an Affe. 2150

Pifa. Why how now Rascall; is your manners such? You affe, you Dolt, why led you him through Corn-hill, Your way had been to come through Canning streete.

Frisfc. Why so I did fir.

Pifa. Why thou seeft yee were in Corn-Hill.

Frisfc. Indeed fir there was three faults, the Night was darke, Maister Mendall drunke, and I sleepey, that we could not tell very well, which way we went. 2160

Pifa. Sirra I owe for this a Cudgelling:
But Gentlemen, sith things haue faulne out so,
And for I see Vandalle quakes for cold,
This night accept your Lodginges in my house,
And in the morning forward with your marriage,
Come on my sonnes, firra fetch vp more wood.

Exeunt.

Enter the three Sisters.

Sc. x

Laur. Nay neuer weepe Marina for the matter, Teares are but signes of sorrow, helping not.

2170

Mari. Would it not madde one to be croft as I,
Being in the very hight of my desire?
The strangers frustrate all: our true loue's come,
Nay more, euen at the doore, and Haruies armes
Spred as a Rayne-bow ready to receiue me,
And then my Father meete vs: Oh God, oh God.

Math. Weepe who that list for me, y'fayth not I,
Though I am youngest yet my stomack's great:
Nor tis not father, friends, nor any one,
Shall make me wed the man I cannot loue:

2180

English-men for my monoy : or,

Ile haue my will ynfayth, y'fayth I will.

Laur. Let vs determine Sisters what to doe,
My father meanes to wed vs in the morning,
And therefore something must be thought vpon.

Mari. Weele to our father and so know his minde,
I and his reason too, we are no fooles,
Or Babes neither, to be fedde with words.

Laur. Agreeede, agreeede: but who shall speake for all?

Math. I will.

Mari. No I.

2190

Laur. Thou wilt not speake for crying.

Mari. Yes, yes I warrant you, that humors left,
Bee I but mou'de a little, I shall speake,
And anger him I feare, ere I haue done.

Enter Anthony.

All. Whom Anthony our friend, our Schoole-maister?
Now helpe vs Gentle Anthony, or neuer.

Antho. What is your hastie running chang'd to prayer,
Say, where were you going?

Laur. Euen to our father,
To know what he intendes to doe with vs.

2200

Antho. Tis bootlesse trust mee, for he is resolu'd
To marry you to.

Mari. The Strangers.

Antho. Yfayth he is.

Math. Yfayth he shall not.

Frenchman, be sure weele plucke a Crow together,
Before you force mee giue my hand at Church.

Mari. Come to our Father speach this comfort finds,
That we may scould out grieffe and ease our mindes.

Anth. Stay, Stay Marina, and aduise you better,
It is not Force, but Pollicie must serue:
The Dores are lockt, your Father keepes the Keye,
Wherefore vnpossible to scape away:
Yet haue I plotted, and deuil'd a drift,

To

A Woman will haue her will.

To frustrate your intended mariages,
And giue you full possession of your ioyes :
Laurentia, ere the mornings light appeare,
You must play Anthony in my disguise.

Math. }
Mari. } Anthony, what of vs ? What shall we weare ? 2220

Anth. Soft, soft, you are too forward Girles, I sweare,
For you some other drift deuisd must bee ?
One shaddow for a substance : this is shee.
Nay weepe not sweetes, repose vpon my care,
For all alike, or good or bad shall share :
You will haue Haruie, you Heigham, and you Ned ;
You shall haue all your wish, or be I dead :
For sooner may one day the Sea lie still,
Then once restraine a Woman of her will.

All. Sweete Anthony, how shall we quit thy hire ? 2230

Anth. Not gifts, but your contentments I desire :

To helpe my Countrimen I cast about,
For Strangers loues blase fresh, but soone burne out :
Sweete rest dwell heere, and frightfull feare obiure,
These eyes shall wake to make your rest secure :
For ere againe dull night the dull eyes charmes,
Each one shall fould her Husband in her armes :
Which if it chaunce, we may auouch it still,
Women & Maydes will alwayes haue their will. Exeunt.

Enter Pisaro and Frisco.

Sc. xi

Pisa. Are Wood & Coales brought vp to make a fire ?
Is the Meate spitted ready to lie downe : 2242
For Bakemeates Ile haue none, the world's too hard :
There's Geese too, now I remember mee ;
Bid Mawdlin lay the Giblets in Past,
Here's nothing thought vpon, but what I doe.
Stay Frisco, see who ringes : looke to the Dore,
Let none come in I charge, were he my Father,
Ile keepe them whilst I haue them : Frisco, who is it ?

Frisco. She is come yn fayth.

Engliſh-men for my money: or,

Pifa. Who is come?

Friſc. Miſtris Suſhaunce, Miſtris *Moore*s daughter.

Pifa. Miſtris Suſan, Affe? Oh ſhe muſt come in.

Friſc. Hang him, if he keepe out a Wench:
Yf the Wench keepe not out him, ſo it is.

Enter Walgraue in Womans attire.

Pifa. Welcome Miſtris Suſan, welcome;
I little thought you would haue come to night;
But welcome (truſt me) are you to my houſe:
What, doth your Mother mende? doth ſhe recouer? 2260
I promiſe you I am forry for her ſickeſſe.

Walg. She's better then ſhe was, I thanke God for it,

Pifa. Now afore God ſhe is a ſweete ſmugge Girle,
One might doe good on her; the fleſh is frayle,
Man hath infirmitie, and ſuch a Bride,
Were able to change Age to hot deſire:
Harke you Sweet-heart,
To morrow are my Daughters to be wedde,
I pray you take the paines to goe with them.

Walg. If fir youle giue me leaue, Ile waight on them. 2270

Pifa. Yes marry ſhall you, and a thouſand thanks,
Such company as you my Daughters want,
Maydes muſt grace Maydes, when they are married:
Iſt not a merry life (thinkeſt thou) to wed,
For to imbrace, and be imbrac'd abed.

Walg. I know not what you meane fir.
Heere's an old Ferret Pol-cat.

Pifa. You may doe, if youle follow mine aduice;
I tell thee Mouſe, I knew a Wench as nice:
Well, ſhee's at reſt poore ſoule, I meane my Wife, 2280
That thought (alas good heart) Loue was a toy,
Vntill (well, that time is gon and paſt away)
But why ſpeake I of this: Harke yee Sweeting,
There's more in Wedlocke, then the name can ſhew;

And

A Woman will haue her will.

And now (birlady) you are ripe in yeares :
And yet take heed Wench, there lyes a Pad in Straw ;

Walg. Old Fornicator, had I my Dagger,
Ide breake his Costard.

Pifa. Young men are slippery, fickle, wauering ;
Constant abiding graceth none but Age : 2290
Then Maydes should now waxe wife, and doe so,
As to chuse constant men, let fickle goe,
Youth's vnregarded, and vnhonoured :
An auncient Man doth make a Mayde a Matron :
And is not that an Honour, how say you ? how say you ?

Walg. Yes forsooth.
(Oh old lust will you neuer let me goe.)

Pifa. You say right well, and doe but thinke thereon,
How Husbands, honored yeares, long card-for wealth,
Wife stayednesse, Experient gouernment, 2300
Doth grace the Mayde, that thus is made a Wife,
And you will wish your selfe such, on my life.

Walg. I thinke I must turne womankind altogether,
And scratch out his eyes :
For as long as he can see me, hele nere let me goe.

Pifa. But goe (sweet-heart) to bed, I doe thee wrong,
The latenesse now, makes all our talke seeme long.

Enter Anthony.

How now Mowche, be the Girles abed ?

Anth. Mathea (and it like you) saine would sleepe, 2310 but onely tarrieth for her bed-fellow.

Pifa. Ha, you say well : come, light her to her Chamber,
Good rest with I to thee ; with so to mee,
Then Susan and Pifaro shall agree :
Thinke but what ioy is neere your bed-fellow,
Such may be yours ; take counsaile of your Pillow :
To morrow weele talke more ; and so good night,
Thinke what is sayd, may bee, if all hit right.

English-men for my money: or,

Walg. What, haue I past the Pikes: knowes he not Ned?
I thinke I haue deseru'd his Daughters bed. 2320

Anth. Tis well, tis well: but this let me request,
You keepe vnknowne, till you be laide to rest:
And then a good hand speed you.

Walg. Tut, nere feare mee,
We two abed shall neuer disagree. Exeunt Antho. & Walg.

Frisc. I haue stood still all this while, and could not speake for laughing: Lord what a Dialogue hath there bin betweene Age and Youth. You do good on her? euen as much as my Dutchman will doe on my young Mistris:
Maister, follow my counsaile; then send for M. Heigham 2330 to helpe him, for Ile lay my Cappe to two Pence, that hee will be asleepe to morrow at night, when he should goe to bed to her: Marry for the Italian, he is of an other humor, for there'le be no dealings with him, till midnight; for hee must flauer all the Wenches in the house at parting, or he is no body: hee hath been but a litle while at our House, yet in that small time, hee hath lickt more Grease from our Mawdlins lippes, then would haue seru'd London Kitchin-stufte this tweluemonth. Yet for my money, well fare the Frenchman, Oh hee is a forward Lad, for heele no sooner 2340 come from the Church, but heele fly to the Chamber; why heele read his Lesson so often in the day time, that at night like an apt Scholler, heele be ready to sell his old Booke to buye him a new. Oh the generation of Languages that our House will bring forth: why euery Bedd will haue a propper speach to himfelfe, and haue the Founders name written vpon it in faire Cappitall letters, Heere lay, and so forth.

Pisa. Youle be a villaine still: Looke who's at dore?

Frisc. Nay by the Masse, you are M. Porter, for Ile be 2350 hang'd if you loose that office, hauing so pretty a morsell vnder your keeping: I goe (old huddle) for the best Nose at smelling out a Pin-fold, that I know: well, take heede, you may happes picke vp Wormes so long, that at length some

A Woman will haue her will.

some of them get into your Nose, and neuer out after: But what an Affe am I to thinke so, considering all the Lodginges are taken vp already, and there's not a Dog-kennell empty for a strange Worme to breed in.

Enter Anthony.

Sc. xii

Antho. The day is broke; Mathea and young Ned,
By this time, are so surely linckt together,
That none in London can forbid the Banes.

2361

Laurentia she is neere prouided for:
So that if Haruies pollicie but hold,
Elce-where the Strangers may goe seeke them Wiues:
But heere they come.

Enter Pisaro and Browne.

Pisa. Six a clocke say you; trust mee, forward dayes:
Harke you Mowche, hie you to Church,
Bid M. Bewford be in readinesse:
Where goe you, that way?

2370

Anth. For my Cloake, sir.

Pisa. Oh tis well: and M. Browne,
Trust mee, your earely stirring makes me muse,
Is it to mee your businesse?

Brown. Euen to your selfe:

I come (I thinke) to bring you welcome newes,

Pisa. And welcome newes,

More welcome makes the bringer:

Speake, speake, good M. Browne, I long to hear them.

2380

Brow. Then this it is. Young Haruie late last night,
Full weak and sickly came vnto his lodging,
From whence this suddaine mallady proceedes:
Tis all vncertaine, the Doctors and his Friends
Affirme his health is vnrecouerable:
Young Heigham and Ned Walgraue lately left him,
And I came hither to informe you of it.

Pisa. Young M. Haruie sicke; now afore God
The newes bites neere the Bone: for should he die,
His Liuing morgaged would be redeemed,

2390

For

English-men for my money : or,

For not these three months doth the Bond beare date :
Die now, marry God in heauen defend it ;
Oh my sweete Lands, loofe thee, nay loofe my life :
And which is worst, I dare not aske mine owne,
For I take two and twenty in the hundred,
When the Law giues but ten : But should he liue,
Hee carelesse would haue left the debt vnpaide,
Then had the Lands been mine Pisaros owne,
Mine, mine owne Land, mine owne Possession.

Brow. Nay heare mee out.

2400

Pisa. You'r out too much already,
Vnlesse you giue him life, and mee his Land.

Brow. Whether tis loue to you, or to your Daughter,
I know not certaine ; but the Gentleman
Hath made a deed of gift of all his Lands,
Vnto your beautious Daughter faire Marina.

Pesa. Ha, say that word againe, say it againe,
A good thing cannot be too often spoken :

Marina say you, are you sure twas shee,
Or Mary, Margery ; or some other Mayde ?

2410

Brow. To none but your Daughter faire Marina ;
And for the gift might be more forcible,
Your neighbour maister Moore aduised vs,
(Who is a witnesse of young Haruies Will)
Sicke as hee is, to bring him to your house :
I know they are not farre, but doe attende,
That they may know, what welcome they shall haue.

Pisa. What welcome fir ; as welcome as new life
Giuen to the poore condemned Prisoner :

Returne (good maister Browne) assure their welcome,
Say it, nay sweare it ; for they'r welcome truly :

2420

For welcome are they to mee which bring Gold.
See downe who knockes ; it may be there they are :

Frisco, call downe my Sonnes, bid the Girles rise :
Where's Mowche ; what, is he gon or no ?

Enter

A Woman will haue her will.

Enter Laurentia in Anthonies attire.

Oh heare you firra, bring along with you
Maister Balsaro the Spanissh Marchant.

Laur. Many Balsaros I; Ile to my Loue:
And thanks to Anthony for this escape. 2430

Pifa. Stay, take vs with you. Harke, they knocke againe,
Come my foules comfort, thou good newes bringer,
I must needes hugge thee euen for pure affection.

Enter Haruie brought in a Chaire, Moore, Browne, Aluaro, Vandalle, Delion, and Frisco.

Pifa. Lift softly (good my friends) for hurting him.
Looke chearely fir, you'r welcome to my house.

Harke M. Vandalle, and my other Sonnes,
Seeme to be sad as grieuing for his sicknesse,
But inwardly reioyce. Maister Vandalle, 2440
Signor Aluaro, Monsieur Delion,

Bid my Friend welcome, pray bid him welcome:
Take a good heart; I doubt not (by Gods leaue)
You shall recouer and doe well enough:
(Yf I should thinke so, I should hange my selfe.)

Frisco, goe bid Marina come to mee. Exit Frisco.

You are a Witnesse fir, of this mans Will:
What thinke you M. Moore, what say you to't?

Moor. Maister Pifaro, follow mine aduice: 2450
You see the Gentleman cannot escape,

Then let him straight be wedded to your Daughter;
So during life time, she shall hold his Land,
When now (becing nor kith nor kin to him)
For all the deed of Gift, that he hath feald,
His younger Brother will inioy the Land.

Pifa. Marry my Daughter: no birlady.
Heare you Aluaro, my Friend counsaile mee,
Seeing young M. Haruie is so sicke,

K.

To

English-men for my money : or,

To marry him incontinent to my Daughter.
Or else the gift he hath bestowde, is vaine : 2460
Marry and hee recouer ; no my Sonne,
I will not loose thy loue, for all his Land.

Alua. Here you padre, do no lose his Lands, his hundred pont per anno, tis wort to hauer ; let him haue de matresse Marina in de mariage, tis but vor me to attendre vne day more : if he will no die, I sal giue him fush a Drincke, fush a Potion sal mak him giue de Bonos noches to all de world.

Pisa. Aluaro, here's my Keyes, take all I haue,
My Money, Plate, Wealth, Jewels, Daughter too : 2470
Now God be thanked, that I haue a Daughter, worthy to be Aluaroes bedfellow :
Oh how I doe admire and prayse thy wit,
Ile straight about it : Heare you Maister Moore.

Enter Marina and Frisco.

Frisco. Nay fayth hee's sicke, therefore though hee be come, yet he can doe you no good ; there's no remedy but euen to put your selfe into the hands of the Italian, that by that time that he hath past his growth, young Haruie will be in case to come vpon it with a sife of fresh force. 2480

Mari. Is my Loue come, & sicke ? I, now thou louest me,
How my heart ioyes : Oh God, get I my will,
Ile driue away that Sicknesse with a kisse :
I need not faine, for I could weepe for ioy.

Pisa. It shall be so ; come hither Daughter.
Maister Haruie, that you may see my loue
Comes from a single heart vnfaynedly,
See heere my Daughter, her I make thine owne :
Nay looke not strange, before these Gentlemen,
I freely yeeld Marina for thy Wife. 2490

Haru. Stay, stay good sir, forbear this idle worke,
My soule, is labouring for a higher place,

Then

A Woman will haue her will.

Then this vaine tranſitorie world can yeeld:
What, would you wed your Daughter to a Graue?
For this is but Deaths modell in mans ſhape:
You and Aluaro happie liue together:
Happy were I, to ſee you liue together.

Pifa. Come ſir, I truſt you ſhall doe well againe:
Heere, heere, it muſt be ſo; God giue you ioy,
And bleſſe you (not a day to liue together.) 2500

Vand. Hort ye broder, will ye let den ander heb your Wiue? nempt haer, nempt haer your ſelue?

Alua. No, no; tuſh you be de foole, here be dat ſal ſpoyle de mariage of hem: you haue deceue me of de fine Wenſh ſignor Haruey, but I ſal deceue you of de muſh Land.

Haru. Are all things ſure Father, is all diſpatch'd?

Pifa. What intreſt we haue, we yeeld it you:
Are you now fatiſfied, or reſtes there ought?

Haru. Nay Father, nothing doth remaine, but thanks:
Thanks to your ſelfe firſt, that diſdayning mee, 2510
Yet loude my Lands, and for them gaue a Wife.

But next, vnto Aluaro let me turne,
To courtious gentle louing kind Aluaro,
That rather then to ſee me die for loue,
For very loue, would looſe his beawtious Loue.

Vand. Ha, ha, ha.

Deli. Signor Aluaro, giue him de ting quickly ſal make hem dy, autremant you ſal loſe de fine Wenſh.

Alua. Oyime che haueſſe allhora appreſſata la mano al mio core, ô ſuen curato ate, I che longo ſei tu arriuato, ô cieli, ô terra. 2520

Pifa. Am I awake? or doe deluding Dreames
Make that ſeeme true, which moſt my ſoule did feare?

Haru. Nay fayth Father, it's very certaine true,
I am as well as any man on earth:
Am I ficke firres? Looke here, is Haruie ficke?

Pifa. What ſhall I doe? What ſhall I ſay?
Did not you counfaile mee to wed my Childe?

English-men for my money: or,

What Potion? Where's your helpe, your remedy.

Haru. I hope more happy Starres will reigne to day,
And don Aluaro haue more company.

2530

Enter Anthonie.

Antho. Now Anthony, this cottens as it should,
And euery thing forts to his wish'd effect:
Haruie ioyes Moll: my Dutchman and the French,
Thinking all sure, laughs at Aluaros hap;
But quickly I shall marre that merrie vaine,
And make your Fortunes equall with your Friends.

Pisa. Sirra Mowche, what answere brought you backe?
Will maister Balsaro come, as I requested?

Anth. Maister Balsaro; I know not who you meane. 2540

Pisa. Know you not Affe, did I not fend thee for him?
Did not I bid thee bring him, with the Parson?
What answere made hee, will hee come or no?

Anth. Sent me for him: why sir, you sent not mee,
I neither went for him, nor for the Parson:
I am glad to see your Worship is so merrie. Knocke.

Pisa. Hence you forgetfull dolt:
Looke downe who knockes? Exit Antho.

Enter Frisco.

Frisco. Oh Maister, hange your selfe: nay neuer stay for 2550 a Sestions: Maister Vandalle confesse your selfe, desire the people to pray for you; for your Bride shee is gone: Laurentia is run away.

Vanda. Oh de Diabolo, de mal-fortune: is matresse Laurentia gaen awech?

Pisa. First tell mee that I am a liuelesse coarfe;
Tell mee of Doomes-day, tell mee what you will,
Before you say Laurentia is gone.

Mari. Maister Vandalle, how doe you feele your selfe?
What, hang the head? fie man for shame I say, 2560
Looke not so heauie on your marriage day.

Haru.

A Woman will haue her will.

Haru. Oh blame him not, his grieffe is quickly spide,
That is a Bridegroom, and yet wants his Bride.

Enter Heigham, Laurentia, Balsaro, & Anthony.

Balf. Maister Pisaro, and Gentlemen, good day to all :
According sir, as you requested mee,
This morne I made repaire vnto the Tower,
Where as Laurentia now was married :
And sir, I did expect your comming thither ;
Yet in your absence, wee perform'd the rites :
Therefore I pray sir, bid God giue them ioy. 2570

Heigh. He tels you true, Laurentia is my Wife ;
Who knowing that her Sisters must be wed ;
Presuming also, that you'le bid her welcome,
Are come to beare them company to Church.

Haru. You come too late, the Mariage rites are done :
Yet welcome twenty-fold vnto the Feast.
How say you sirs, did not I tell you true,
These Wenches would haue vs, and none of you.

Laur. I cannot say for these ; but on my life,
This loues a Cushion better then a Wife. 2580

Mall. And reason too, that Cushion fell out right, Else hard had been his lodging all last night.

Balf. Maister Pisaro, why stand you speechlesse thus ?

Pisa. Anger, and extreame grieffe enforceth mee.
Pray sir, who bade you meete mee at the Tower ?

Balf. Who sir ; your man sir, Mowche ; here he is.

Anth. Who I sir, meane you mee ? you are a iesting man.

Pisa. Thou art a Villaine, a dissembling Wretch, Worser then Anthony whom I kept last :
Fetch me an Officer, Ile hamper you,
And make you sing at Bride-well for this tricke :
For well he hath deserude it, that would sweare
He went not forth a dores at my appoyntment. 2590

Anth. So sweare I still, I went not forth to day.

English-men for my money: or,

Bals. Why arrant lyer, wert thou not with mee?

Pisa. How say you maister Browne, went he not forth?

Brow. Hee, or his likenesse did, I know not whether.

Pisa. What likenesse can there be besides himselfe?

Laur. My selfe (forsooth) that tooke his shape vpon me, 2600

I was that Mowche that you sent from home:

And that same Mowche that deceiued you,

Effectted to possesse this Gentleman:

Which to attaine, I thus be guil'd you all.

Frisc. This is excellent, this is as fine as a Fiddle: you
M. Heigham got the Wench in Mowches apparell; now let Mowche put on her apparell, and be married to the Dutch- man: How thinke you, is it not a good vize?

Moor. Maister Pisaro, shake off melancholy,
When things are helpelesse, patience must be vs'd. 2610

Pisa. Talke of Patience? Ile not beare these wronges:
Goe call downe Matt, and mistris Susan Moore,
Tis well that of all three, wee haue one sure.

Moor. Mistris Susan Moore, who doe you meane sir?

Pisa. Whom should I meane sir, but your Daughter?

Moor. You'r very pleasant sir: but tell me this,
When did you see her, that you speake of her?

Pisa. I, late yester-night, when she came heere to bed.

Moor. You are deceiu'd, my Daughter lay not heere,
But watch'd with her sicke mother all last night. 2620

Pisa. I am glad you are so pleasant M. Moore,
You'r loth that Susan should be held a sluggard:
What man, t'was late before she went to bed,
And therefore time enough to rise againe.

Moor. Maister Pisaro, doe you floute your friends;
I well perceiue if I had troubled you,
I should haue had it in my dish ere now:
Susan lie heere? 'am sure when I came foorth,
I left her fast asleepe in bed at home;
Tis more then neighbour-hood to vse me thus. 2630

Pisa.

A Woman will haue her will.

Pifa. Abed at your house? tell me I am madd,
Did not I let her in adores my selfe,
Spoke to her, talk'd with her, and canuast with her;
And yet she lay not heere? What say you firra?

Antbo. She did, she did; I brought her to her Chamber.

Moor. I say he lyes (that sayth so) in his throat.

Antbo. Masse now I remember me, I lye indeed.

Pifa. Oh how this frets mee: Frisco, what say you?

Frisco. What say I? Marry I say, if shee lay not heere, there was a familiar in her likeneffe; for I am sure my Mai- 2640 ster and she were so familiar together, that he had almost shot the Gout out of his Toes endes, to make the Wench beleue he had one tricke of youth in him. Yet now I remember mee shee did not lye heere; and the reason is, because shee doth lye heere, and is now abed with mistris Mathea; witnesse whereof, I haue set to my Hand & Seale, and meane presently to fetch her. Exit Frisco.

Pifa. Doe so Frisco. Gentlemen and Friends,
Now shall you see how I am wrong'd by him.
Lay shee not heere? I thinke the world's growne wise, 2650
Plaine folkes (as I) shall not know how to liue.

Enter Frisco.

Frisco. Shee comes, shee comes: a Hall, a Hall.

Enter Mathea, and Walgraue in Womans attire.

Walg. Nay blush not wench, feare not, looke chearfully.
Good morrow Father; Good morrow Gentlemen:
Nay stare not, looke you heere, no monster I,
But euen plaine Ned: and heere stands Matt my Wife.
Know you her Frenchman? But she knowes me better.
Father, pray Father, let mee haue your blessing, 2660
For I haue blest you with a goodly Sonne;
Tis breeding heere yfayth, a iolly Boy.

Pifa. I am vndone, a reprobate, a slaue;
A scorne, a laughter, and a iesting stocke:
Giue mee my Child, giue mee my Daughter from you.

Moore.

Engliſh-men for my money : or,

Moor. Maifter Pifaro, tis in vaine to fret,
And fume, and ſtorme, it little now auayles :
Theſe Gentlemen haue with your Daughters helpe,
Outtript you in your ſubtile enterpriſes :
And therefore, ſeeing they are well deſcended,
Turne hate to loue, and let them haue their Loues,

2670

Pifa. Is it euen ſo ; why then I ſee that ſtill, Doe what we can, Women will haue their Will.
Gentlemen, you haue outreacht mee now,
Which nere before you, any yet could doe :
You, that I thought ſhould be my Sonnes indeed,
Muſt be content, ſince there's no hope to ſpeed :
Others haue got, what you did thinke to gaine ;
And yet beleecue mee, they haue tooke ſome paine.
Well, take them, there ; and with them, God giue ioy.
And Gentlemen, I doe intreat to morrow,
That you will Feaſte with mee, for all this forrow :
Though you are wedded, yet the Feaſt's not made :
Come let vs in, for all the ſtormes are paſt,
And heapes of ioy will follow on as faſt.
